Couple is abducted, released

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A local couple was robbed by three men, and then driven into Missouri, where the hostages' lives were threatened in a night of terror which began at 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

One man is in custody and another is being sought in connection with the incident. Mr. and Mrs. Carl (Dorothy) Tipward, 3445 Maryville Road, a mobile home park near West Chain of Rocks Road, said they were in their mobile home when three men, including a former employee of Mr. Tipward, entered their home, two displaying guns.

The men robbed the couple of their television, $20 cash and a camera, then asked for the keys to Tipward's van and car.

They ordered Mr. Tipward into the car with two of the robbers and the third got into the van with Mrs. Tipward.

They then drove to near Troy, Mo., where they stopped and Mrs. Tipward was ordered to join Mr. Tipward and his former employee in the car.

The van pulled out in front of the car and the car followed. The victims said the former employee told them, "One of them (a robber) wants to kill you. I'll stop and you get out and run.

The couple ran from the car and later flagged down a Continental Trailways bus which gave them a ride to Troy, Mo. There they contacted the police and related their story.

A search was started and Tipward's van was found near Troy, Mo. Officers believe the robbers stole another car near where the truck was found.

Later a suspect was arrested in Bowling Green, Mo., and Madison County sheriff's detectives said they were trying today to obtain a warrant and extradition papers to bring him back to this county.

They also are seeking a warrant for Mr. Tipward's former employee, although he has not yet been captured. Mr. Tipward operated a delivery service in the 2100 block of Delmar Ave., according to deputies.

The couple described all three robbers as being in their late 20s. The man who has not yet been identified is described as tall, thin and having a mustache. One man carried a snub nosed blue steel .38 caliber revolver and the other had a chrome plated revolver of the same caliber with about a four-inch barrel.

NATIONWIDE ATTENTION is being focused on the band uniforms of new Granite City High School North, currently in its first year of operation. Band

Indictments linked to Powell cash

Two Illinois contractors were indicted Friday by a federal grand jury in Springfield and charged with bribery and submitting rigged bids in connection with the State Capitol renovation project, U.S. Attorney Donald B. Mackay told the Press-Record.

Named as unindicted co-conspirators in the 48-count indictment were the late Paul Powell, Illinois secretary of state until his death in 1970; Powell's purchasing agent, James White; and Harold Buecker, a Springfield contractor.

The indictment, returned before U.S. District Judge Harrington Wood Jr., charges that Ralph Vancil, 53, of Cairo, and Milo H. Vogt, 46, of Petersburg, realized approximately $1.6 million in profits from the heating and air conditioning work on the State Capitol.

Powell received bribes totaling $80,000 for his approval of the rigged bids, according to the indictment.

Another $45,000 was still owed Powell at the time of his death in October 1970, federal prosecutors said.

Vancil and Vogt, chief stockholders and officers in their plumbing and heating companies, are charged in 48 counts of conspiracy, mail fraud and bribery interstate transportation in aid of a racketeering enterprise.

The indictments, recite 35 overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy which allegedly enabled Vancil to realize a profit of 67 per cent of his submitted bid and Vogt a 50 per cent.

Vancil was allegedly the prearranged contractor for the heating and air conditioning of the building's southeast quadrant and Vogt the prearranged contractor for the southwest quadrant.

The "overt acts" charge that Vancil approached White and advised him he wanted Powell to be a "partner" in the southeast quadrant contract; that Powell, through White, accepted the partnership; and that Vancil, Vogt and Springfield contractor Buecker met and agreed that Buecker would submit a prearranged, complimentary bid for the work but that Vancil would be the low bidder.

In turn, it is alleged, Vancil would use his influence with Powell to see that Buecker got the lucrative maintenance contract for the State Capitol. The overt acts charges continue: Vancil made five payments of $10,000 to Powell through White from August 1969

Car-post crash is fatal to Meredith

Robert D. Meredith, 47, of 305 W. Chain of Rocks Road, was injured fatally at 5:05 a.m. Saturday when his auto struck a utility pole in the 2200 block of West Chain of Rocks Road, breaking the pole and allowing high voltage power lines to fall into the street.

Mr. Meredith was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 5:58 a.m.

An autopsy was performed Saturday afternoon which indicated Mr. Meredith died from a rupture to his heart. The only visible wound was a small cut to his head, leading to initial questions of the cause of death.

An official report will be released later after a chemical analysis is completed. An inquest will be held here.

Madison County sheriff's deputies said the auto apparently had been eastbound and had, for an unknown reason, crossed the westbound lane and struck the pole on the north side of the roadway.

Mr. Meredith was born in St. Louis and had resided in the Quad-City area two years. He had been a self-employed printer in St. Louis since 1965 and was a member of the Graphic Arts International Union.

He is survived by two children, Miss Margaret Ann Meredith and David Robert Meredith, both of Florissant, Mo., and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Meredith of St. Louis County.

Funeral services are to be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at a St. Louis funeral home. Interment will be in Frieden's Cemetery, St. Louis.

Quad-City streakers Uniforms Plant cited in campaign

If a fad like "streaking" spreads worldwide within a week in the waning days of winter, can spring and the Quad-Cities be far behind?

At 2 a.m. Saturday, a middle-aged man streaked (ran nude) through Bowland, joining 40 sleepy-eyed bowlers fully awake.

He was a bit out of uniform for the establishment. Instead of bowling shoes, he was attired in tennis shoes. But true to the streaking tradition, he limited his costume to the foot apparel.

The streaker entered by the front door and left amid applause and laughter through a side door. Entering a waiting auto, the man left the area immediately.

Several hours earlier, three boys were seen streaking in the glare of headlights in the vicinity of Granite City High School North.

The incident was reported to have occurred about the time a school activity was ending Friday evening.

About 18 male streakers made themselves highly visible in the academic core area of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Thursday, and more were seen at SUE Friday.

Before entering the campus mall, where a crowd had gathered Thursday, the streakers ran through the University Center cafeteria. They were spirited away im-

TO STREAK OR NOT TO STREAK was a question that did not bother this group for long Thursday at the SUE campus mall. All escaped apprehension by authorities, but five persons who streaked Friday were referred to the dean for disciplinary action.

Uniforms praised

Newly designed uniforms of the Granite City High School North marching and concert band are to be featured in the new national catalog of the DeMolloy Bros. Uniform Co. of Greenville, Ill.

The uniform of the Marching Steelers band is the only uniform in this metropolitan area to be selected by President Dick DeMolloy for inclusion in a band uniform catalog being prepared by an advertising firm in St. Louis. Colored pictures of North band members modeling the new uniforms will appear in the soon-to-be-released uniform catalog.

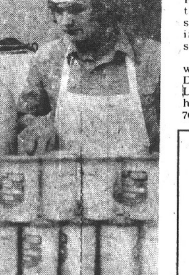

The design of the basic concert uniform is a single-breasted, peaked front with split tails. The trousers are high waisted with a silver stripe down each side for leg movement accent on the march.

The concert uniform is transformed into a brilliant and striking ensemble by the inclusion of a unique overlay, a shako (hat), silver spats, black plume and white gloves.

The overlay was designed of "Mylar", a new product for the DeMolloy Co., first developed for the North band.

Mylar is a durable plastic material which resembles leather in appearance and gives an unusual glitter on the field.

The back of each overlay carries the school crest in Juanita Hand, 18, and John Gilley, 17. High school students become acquainted with the private enterprise system by operating 17 JA companies here and manufacturing a wide variety of goods, which then are sold to help meet the cost of the materials and equipment used in making the products.

Rotary section today

Today's 72-page edition includes a 32-page regular edition along with 24-page and 16-page supplements.

The 16-page supplement presents information on the Granite City Rotary Club, which will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary tomorrow evening with a dinner dance at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

Joseph Hassler is president of the club and Richard West and Richard Kerch are chairmen of the golden anniversary observance. Walter Milton aided in coordinating the 50-year supplement.

Original officers of the club were Lewis L. Lindley, the Rev. D. J. Bryan, Ray Wilbur and Miss Glenda Moore, emergency room head nurse, discussed her department's operation and cited problems involved when dealing with a 32,000-patient yearly workload.

She noted that "the emergency room is open around the clock, 365 days a year. A physician is on duty 24 hours a day and service not all hospitals are able to provide—and a staff doctor is on call every day."

The staff doctor is responsible for the care of patients who do not have a physician. The nursing staff includes 10 registered nurses, five licensed practical nurses, three emergency room technicians, one nurse aide and three unit clerks.

Miss Moore said that to work in the emergency room a person must be able to "work well under stress, use good judgment and remain calm at all times."

She continued, "A breakdown of cases handled in the year gives one a good idea why keeping cool under pressure is essential in a hospital emergency room."

There were 1,287 auto accidents; 8,187 other accidents—home, industrial and school; 91 dead on arrival and 22,727 medical cases. Of those seen, 4,551 were admitted to the hospital from the emergency room. The lab ran 2,534 tests and the x-ray department took 928 films of

R. E. Ashby crash victim

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at a Charleston, Ill., funeral home for Robert Gene Ashby, 30, of Rural Route Two, Granite City, who was burned fatally in a three-vehicle accident on Route 66 near Lincoln, Ill., last week.

Mr. Ashby, who had lived in Granite City since moving here as a small child, was employed by the Thunderbird Trucking Co. of South Roxana and was enroute to Wisconsin from Granite City with a truckload of freight when the accident occurred.

State police at Springfield said the accident occurred on Route 66, six and a half miles south of the junction of Routes 10 and 121 at the west edge of Lincoln, at 10:10 a.m. Wednesday.

Troopers said Mr. Ashby's tractor-trailer struck the rear of a pickup truck resulting in a gasoline explosion that engulfed the cab of the truck driven by Mr. Ashby. The driver of the pickup, Tony L. Elmore of Springfield, was injured and taken to Memorial Hospital at Springfield.

State police said the third vehicle was driven by Marion Davis, Springfield, who also was taken to the Springfield Hospital.

Mr. Ashby was born in Charleston, Ill., moving here several years after he was born. He attended Granite City High School and spent several years in service with a tour of duty in Germany. He was employed at General Steel Industries before becoming employed as a truck driver.

Powell

To June 1970; Vancil also allegedly tendered a $10,000 check to Powell through Buecker, but Powell refused the check, saying he wanted cash instead.

Large sums of cash stored in shoe boxes were found after Secretary Powell's death.

As to the southwest quadrant, the overt acts detail the following chronology of events: Vancil told White that Vogt's firm was to be the successful low bidder at $1,585,000 with the understanding that Powell would get five per cent of the contract, or $75,000. Vancil submitted a slightly higher, complimentary bid on the work, and Vancil made three $10,000 payments to White on behalf of Vogt, to be delivered to Powell.

The last such payment was made Oct. 1, 1970, according to the indictment. Powell died nine days later.

The indictment also alleges Vancil and White met with Powell in September 1970 "and discussed the fact that no records were maintained by Paul Powell that would reflect any payments."

The indictment says was the culmination of three years of investigation by agents from the Springfield Intelligence Division of the Internal Revenue Service with assistance from postal inspectors in the Springfield office.

Also playing a key role in the investigation were Attorneys Victor C. Woehrdt and William S. Keeney of the Department of Justice in Washington.

Vogt is also charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice in a separate indictment returned at the same time.

The new Vogt with meeting with Buecker and agreeing on what story he would tell the grand jury. Buecker is not charged in either indictment.

White was granted immunity from prosecution as to the State Capitol project in the spring of 1973. At that time he pleaded guilty to three counts of failure to file an income tax return for the years 1968, 1969 and 1970 and received three years' probation. Vancil and Vogt each would face a possible maximum penalties of a $10,000 fine and/or five years in jail for conspiracy; a $1,000 fine and/or five years in jail for each count of mail fraud; and $10,000 fine and/or five years in jail for each count of bribery, if convicted.

Vancil is charged with one conspiracy count, 38 mail fraud counts and two bribery counts. Vogt is named in one conspiracy count and 19 mail fraud counts, in addition to the obstruction of justice indictment.

Improvement for Granite City for many years, but no action has been taken because of the problems of financing.

Calvo said the officials were expected to discuss possibility of state aid in today's meeting. Financing a study of costs and locations also was to be considered. Calvo said the use of motor fuel tax funds by the city to make the preliminary studies is a possibility.

He said there also is a state railroad fund from which financing may be obtained and that this route also is to be explored.

A policy on extra-curricular assignments for teachers was approved by the Granite City Board of Education last week.

The policy calls for reassignments of extra-curricular positions to be made by the board at the first official board meeting in June for the following school year.

All assignments will terminate at the end of each school year.

The board accepted with regrets the resignation of Mrs. Donna Price, a secretary at Granite City High School South.

Leaves of absence were granted to Mrs. Diane Nelson, a teacher at GCHS South, and Mrs. Linda Hill, a girls' physical education teacher at South.

The board authorized one administrator and one board member to accept an invitation

George Nemeth was granted permission to attend the National Wrestling Coaches' Association Clinic in Ames, Iowa, March 15.

The local chapter of the Council of Exceptional Children was granted use of Lake School May 4 for a workshop.

Use of the GCHS South gymnasium was granted to Prather and Grigsby junior high schools for a faculty basketball game to raise money for a video tape recorder for Prather and a reading center for Grigsby.

Marshall School was approved for use as a polling place for the March 19 primary election on a request from Granite City Township.

Miss Eulalia Hotz, county clerk, was given permission to use the GCHS South cafeteria March 16 from 2 to 4 p.m. for a meeting of election judges.

Use of Nameoki School's athletic field was granted to Jane Neight for soccer practice two nights per week until July for a girls' soccer team.

The board approved continuation of a pay rate of $15 plus an evening meal for all judges in the schools district's April 13 election.

A tentative list of election judges and alternate polling places was approved.

Students to originate full day of TV shows

People on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will be able to see seven hours of simulated television programming Wednesday, originating from the SIUE television studios.

The 15 members of Jno F. Moorman's advanced television production class will have full responsibility for the presentation of "Teleday 1974," a continuous feed of telecasting from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Monitors will permit public viewing of the programs in the University Center and the Communications Building. News, films, discussion programs and variety shows are planned. Public service advertising will promote university organizations and functions.

Teleday will be the first full day of telecasting at SIUE since the first project of this type was undertaken in 1971. Cyclic, a regular hour of programming at noon on Wednesdays, and other closed circuit programs have been presented by TV classes since the Broadcasting Service's television facilities at SIUE became operational in 1970.

Mary Rose Stauder of Belleville and Stephen Jankowski of Edwardsville are the student coordinators of Teleday. They are directing the origination of program material, production of programs, identifications, promotional spots and all the other creative requirements for a day of telecasting.

The programming will include live newscasts of local, area and national news, compiled with the assistance of the news gathering facilities of SIUE's radio station, WSEF-FM, the journalism news writing classes, and the SIUE daily newspaper, The Aleetic. News, weather and sports will be as accurate and up-to-date as if the station were on the air, Moorman said.

Other programs will include: informal show styled after the "Today" format, musical and dancing shows by campus groups, films produced by students, nostalgia films, a radio repertory theater documentary and variety shows.

Moorman said students in the class have mastered control of the "hardware" in the university's million-dollar television studios, and "now they're gaining the opportunity to produce a full day of television programming."

He described the experience as "interdisciplinary—a composite of activities involving many different schools and departments of the university."

Moorman said he is insisting on "quality" in the production. "I'd rather have 30 minutes of real good quality programming than several hours of nothing," he said.

James Brown of Alton, a member of the Teleday continuity staff, said, "The students regard Teleday as an excellent opportunity to experience true-to-life situations in television production."

Governor hoping to speed freeway work

Gov. Dan Walker last week called for a major reallocation of state funds for fiscal 1974-75 to allow "modest tax relief while increasing state services and financing a number of new programs."

He said no new or increased taxes are needed for his proposed budget of $7,886,436,000, an increase of $26,135,000 or 3.1 per cent over 1973-74. The total increase for the two years is $261 million, or a 3.4 per cent growth, he said.

Walker called it an "accountability budget" because it contains objectives by which government performance could be measured and accounted for.

He proposes: The largest increase from existing resources for aid to elementary and secondary education in state history, $138 million.

A $305 million appropriation for supplemental freeways including putting $168 million of construction under contract as compared with $71 million in 1973-74.

A $25 million appropriation for energy development, particularly to convert coal to gaseous, liquid or clean solid fuels.

An increase for higher education of $52.5 million, enough to permit omission of a tuition increase proposed by the Board of Higher Education and to provide scholarships for 27,000 more students through infusion of $8.7 million into state scholarship funds as part of the $25.5 million increase.

A new state commitment to equalize a regional transit system for 70 per cent of the state's population, at a cost of $97 million.

A new state lottery, adding $64 million to the budget.

A $28 million sliding-scale salary increase for state employees.

An eight per cent, across-the-board pay raise for correctional guards, on top of a general pay raise.

A net increase in budgets for the legislature, judiciary and elected officers of $25 million.

"In addition to entering into $168 million of freeway construction contracts, we are going to be doing the pre-construction work and fighting red tape in Washington so that additional segments will be ready for construction as rapidly as possible," the governor said.

Capital development requests will be lower than the current fiscal year because of an assessment of what construction can be undertaken during the year. The board will review building construction in light of such factors as the leveling off and decline in education enrollments and will make plans to conserve energy in public buildings.

Nearly a third of the total new budget—$2.5 billion—would go to school districts and other local-level governments, Walker said.

He said a general slowdown in the national economy is expected to be mirrored in Illinois for a good part of 1974-75.

He said growth of state revenue will not continue at the pace of recent years. While state tax revenues are expected to grow by nearly $300 million from fiscal 1973 to fiscal 1974, the projected growth for fiscal 1975 is less than $200 million.

Federal revenue for state general funds is expected to grow by only $14 million from fiscal 1974 to 1975.

For only the third time since the state motor fuel tax was instituted in 1929, Illinois expects to suffer a decline in dollars from that source from one fiscal year to the next. The other two declines were in the Depression and during World War II.

The reception will resume at

The homily for the Anniversary Mass will be given by Bishop John B. Franz, a native of Springfield who is now retired bishop of Peoria.

Participating in the Mass will be priests of the diocese, religious brothers, sisters from the various communities serving in the diocese, and seminarians. Two couples from each parish and mission parish in the diocese will attend.

Electronic funds system is live topic among bankers

"EFTS" may not mean much to the man on the street today, but it's one of the hottest topics of conversation in banking circles, according to Dave Giese, vice-president and cashier of the American National Bank and president of the Southwestern Illinois Chapter of Bank Administration Institute, who noted today that EFTS (Electronic Funds Transfer System) is a product of technological revolution.

"Bankers and data equipment suppliers around the country are discussing systems that put a computer keyboard at the merchant's cash register, directly triggering a process to electronically charge the customer's account and credit the merchant's account without generating any paper records except a receipt," Dave Giese said.

"The future may bring advanced systems that will spread money around the world," he adds.

But what about today? Bankers, through technical associations such as ABI, are studying the costs and ramifications of electronic banking. The one thing that most agree on is the EFTS is

CAR STOLEN, BURNED
The auto of Harold Humphries, 256 Lynch Ave., stolen last week from Charlie's Restaurant, Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road, was found by Madison County sheriff's deputies burning on Post Road.

AMERICAN LEGION BIRTHDAY week was proclaimed for today through Sunday by Mayor Paul Schuler, right, who is reviewing plans for the observance with Donald Morris, commander of Tri-City Post 113. The local post will mark the week with a dinner-dance at the Post Home, 1825 State St., Saturday night.

Police dog guest at Rotary meeting

Otto Von Rylstone, a 105-pound German shepherd dog and his trainer, William Robinson of the Indian Hill Security Training Center in Edwardsville, were guests at last week's meeting of the Madison Rotary Club at the Madison Recreation Center.

Robinson told the club that police are avoiding the use of dogs due to a public misunderstanding of the dogs' training. Contrary to popular view, the dogs are not taught to mutilate, but merely to grab and hold; he said police are using dogs to sniff out and locate marijuana.

President Wade James reminded the club of the Granite City Rotary 50th anniversary celebration dinner and dance Tuesday at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Auto safety Kiwanis topic

More drivers of small domestic cars are injured fatally in traffic accidents than drivers of standard size autos, members of the Breakfast Kiwanis Club were told at a meeting Thursday at Charlie's Restaurant.

Kiwanian Howard Schuenke, controller at A. O. Smith Corp., outlined a comparison of 5.6 per cent fatalities among drivers of smaller cars, involved in accidents, with 3.1 per cent of drivers of larger type cars, during 1972.

The fatality rate among drivers of small imported cars was 5.6 per cent in 1972, Schuenke said.

Club members also viewed a film provided by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety which illustrated the extent of damage to autos and injuries to passengers involved in a head-on collision at speeds of from 40 to 50 miles per hour. The film also emphasized the danger of lightweight cars compared to the heavier models.

The Kiwanis "Hole in One" tournament has been scheduled May 4 and 5 at Arlington, members were reminded.

Kiwanian Donald Moser reported that five members visited the Bunker Hill club last week. This was the first inter-club visit of the local Kiwanians.

A representative of the Granite City Army Installation will present next Thursday's program.

Court dismisses marijuana charge

A charge of possession of marijuana against Robert E. Hill, 17, of 2912 O'Hare Ave., was dismissed by Judge Robert Matosian Friday after statements by four juveniles, disclosed Hill was not involved in the March 2 incident in which the five were arrested.

The four juveniles who were charged with possession of marijuana in Hill's car, reported that Hill was inside a bowling establishment and did not know the juveniles were in his auto, according to his attorney.

AUTO IS STOLEN
Lorraine Thebeau, 3801 Village Lane, reported at 5:35 p.m. Thursday that her 1973 auto was stolen from a driveway in the 3500 block of Nameoki Road. She said she left the engine running and when she came out of a home, the car was gone. Inside the auto was her shoulder bag containing $10, a credit card and personal papers.

Legion to mark anniversary

Members of Tri-City Post 113, American Legion, will observe the Legion's 55th anniversary this week, highlighted by a dinner and dance in the Post Home, 1825 State St., beginning at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

A proclamation setting American Legion Birthday Week today through Sunday was issued last week by Mayor Paul Schuler who called upon "all citizens, business firms and organizations in extending expressions of appreciation of both wartime and peacetime services of our Legionnaires and to signify our support to their objective—'Be Counted Again'."

Two speakers are to address the dinner meeting Saturday night. They are Frank Robbe, Belleville, of the Missing in Action committee of Disabled American Veterans, and Kermit Hollgreave, Belleville, commander of the 22nd district of the American Legion.

The American Legion was established in 1919. Saturday's program will be open to the public, according to Donald Morris, commander of Post 113.

Red hot Red Devils top Litchfield 77-56, retain sectional crown

Color the Purple Panthers of Litchfield "red" after their almost embarrassing 77-56 loss to the torrid Venice Red Devils Friday in the Class A Basketball Sectional championship game at Vandalia.

The contest was dominated by the 27-3 Devils, who again have qualified for the statewide "sweet 16" finals.

The win reduced Venice's number of victories needed to capture the state title to four, one of which is a supersectional game tomorrow at Charleston, Ill.

Venice will meet Lawrenceville, Friday's Bridgeport sectional winner, at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the gymnasium of Eastern Illinois University.

Lawrenceville was runnerup in the state Class A tournament last year, and the state champion in 1972.

"Venice is a great ball club," Litchfield Panther Coach Harlan Schiebel told the Press-Record Friday night at Vandalia.

"They outshot, outrebounded and outplayed us," he said, "but they didn't try any harder than our boys."

Litchfield matched Venice basket for basket in the first period, and at one time held a one-point lead over the Red Devils.

Trailing 14-11, Panther Rick Weatherford edged his team ahead on two charity tosses and a field goal.

Venice retaliated with two layups for an 18-15 margin going into the second quarter, and held a 36-20 halftime lead.

The state title minded Devils put it all together in the third period with a "horseshoe" type attack, leaving 6-7 Center Ron Henry unguarded in the middle and Tony Sittion dribbling the ball down court through Litchfield's pressing defense.

"Sittion's ability," said Venice Coach Richard Essington, "to beat the press enabled us to get the ball over the midcourt line every time, and then to Henry."

One of the main questions which stood out in fans' minds was why the Panthers did not stop the big all-star?

"Even if we triple-teamed Henry," asked Coach Schiebel, "what good would it have done? Our 5-7 and 5-8 guards would have been useless against the tall senior."

Earlier in the season, Edwardsville beat North 81-49. Pointmakers for GCHS cagers Thursday were Tom Schocker with 41, Larry Schiele with 10, Rick Sparlock with 8, Jim Woodward with 4 and Tim Luehman with 3.

"Everyone played a great game," Coach Jack Parker proudly noted. "We had only a few mental errors. When Schieker hurt his ankle late in the second quarter, Luehman moved right in and did a job for us. Woodward 'also played a fine game'."

"I think we will be hearing great things in future years about every one of these boys, as they all have talent," Parker concluded.

In the consolation game, Jerseyville garnered third place honors, defeating Bethalto 62-49.

Venice school officials announced today that Red Devil basketball fans may purchase tickets for tomorrow's Venice-Lawrenceville supersectional contest to be played at Charleston, Ill.

Tickets are available at the Venice High School superintendent's office, located directly behind the school's gymnasium, until 8 p.m. today.

The price of each ticket for tomorrow's 8 p.m. game is $2 for adults and students alike.

North sophomores take tourney championship

GCHS North sophomore cagers won the Jerseyville sophomore tourney Thursday when they edged Edwardsville in the final game, 67-63.

The action ended North's sophomore cage season with a 13-5 record.

North, behind 21-18 in the first quarter, came back to take the lead at the half 38-35 but trailed again at the end of the third quarter, 49-47.

Earlier in the season, Edwardsville beat North 81-49. Pointmakers for GCHS cagers Thursday were Tom Schocker with 41, Larry

Although the Devils commanded a lead of from 18 to 21 points throughout the final period, starting with 55-37 at the end of three quarters, the game had its exciting moments.

Leading 61-43, Sittion inbounded the ball to Gardner under the enemy's basket, only to have a return pass from Gardner back to Sittion intercepted by Fred Flesch.

With Henry still down court under the net, Sittion stole the ball from the Panther and executed a long, court-length pass to him for another basket.

Henry then tipped the lead to 64-43 with a free throw on a foul committed while scoring.

The charity toss was one of Venice's total of five. Litchfield tallied 10 from the foul line and committed 11 fouls.

With his team ahead 73-52, Henry departed the game to a standing ovation from the crowd. His teammates then added four more points for the victory.

Shouts of joy from several hundred Venice fans resounded throughout the gymnasium as the Red Devils were presented with their second sectional championship trophy in as many years.

While first-year Coach Essington received congratulations from hometown and Litchfield fans alike, James Crowder and Henry boarded teammate Logan into the air to retrieve the nets as memory tokens for the years ahead.

Admire all this Schiebel was telling all who would listen, "If Venice plays its remaining games like it did tonight, it is headed for the state crown."

Both GC high schools enter track meet here

Both Coach Don Miller of Granite City High School South and Coach Harry Lang of GCHS North said their track athletes' participation in Saturday's 50-school meet at Western Illinois University was a "testing type of competition and a warming-up period," for both schools. The event prepared the squads for Wednesday's triangular meet pitting South,

North and Alton at 3:30 p.m. at South, according to the coaches. None of the South Warriors qualified for the finals at WIU Saturday, but Steeler Bob Simpson, a junior, placed sixth in pole vaulting at 13 foot and sophomore Dave Fuchs finished well in distance running with a 10:43 run over a two-mile course.

Kahoks win regional here

Collinsville rallied behind the 30 points of Kahok Marc Fletcher at GCHS South's gymnasium Friday to defeat Edwardsville 89-70 for the Class AA Regional basketball crown before a packed house of 2,600 fans.

The victory not only gave Collinsville the title, but averaged an 85-70 beating Jan. 23 at the hands of Edwardsville. In this week's Collinsville sectional, the host Kahoks will meet Jerseyville at 4 p.m. Tuesday and East St. Louis will play Belleville West at 4 p.m. Wednesday. The survivors will collide for the sectional title at 4 p.m. Friday. In Class A, there will be eight sectional games at eight sites tomorrow night.

Report on sheriff office based on previous staff

A report highly critical of operations of the Madison County sheriff's office relates to conditions during the previous term of George Musso, it was reported Friday. Dated in 1971, it outlines conditions studied prior to the start of the current four-year term of Sheriff John Maeras. Maeras was elected in November 1970 and is seeking re-election this year. The report was not publicized until late last week. Maeras says many of the proposals by a representative of the International Association of Chiefs of Police were put into effect during operational improvements early in his term. However, some of the conditions discussed in the report still are present to a degree, critics contend. They conclude that the field work for the report was done while Musso was sheriff. Maeras was defended last week by John Ellis, head of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, who said Maeras "has used the report as a basis for efforts to try to upgrade his department." Points in the report include administrative deficiencies, political influence, insufficient patrol services, limited professional training, lack of formal planning, inadequate budgeting procedures, confusing chain of command, absence of inspections, sub-standard personnel selection methods, use of untrained special deputies, lack of conferences and written directives, and lack of communications in investigations of major crimes.

Doing good turn has problems

A German Shepherd dog which became trapped in a sewer in the vicinity of the 2300 block of Cardinal Avenue was rescued Thursday afternoon, but only after hours of problems for Wayne Kelly, 2317 Cardinal Ave.

Kelly reported he discovered the dog, but said he was unable to find any way to get the dog out. Kelly summoned humane officers who, with Kelly, enticed the dog to a ground level drainage grill where Kelly attempted to break the drain cover with a sledge hammer. The dog became frightened and fled through the line. The humane officers left to look at other points along the sewer. Meanwhile Kelly, who said he was afraid that it might rain Friday night and the dog might drown, called the fire department. He also called the office of Mayor Paul Schuler.

Red Cross meeting

The board of directors of the Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter will meet at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the board room at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, David Fox, chapter chairman, announced today.

meanwhile located the dog and removed it from the sewer line at a point some distance from where the first attempt was made to remove it.

Kelly, who meanwhile was driving to another point of the sewer line, was ticketed by a police officer on a charge of running a stop sign.

Kelly remarked that it was quite a problem trying to be a good samaritan. "I tried to do a good thing by saving a dog's life and I end up with a traffic ticket," he commented.

Dog bites girl, animal sought

The owners of a long-haired white collie type dog are being sought by Granite City Humane Officer Andy Chiappa to determine if the animal has had rabies shots and eliminate the need for a teenage girl receiving a series of anti-rabies injections.

Chiappa said Beth Ripper, 14, of 3109 Myrtle Ave., was walking her own dog on a leash in the 3100 block of Myrtle Avenue about 7:30 p.m. Friday when the white collie approached and bit her left knee.

The animal was medium size and height with long hair and a collie face. The girl received treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital, but will be required to take the anti-rabies serum if the dog is not located, Chiappa said.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the dog is asked to contact the humane office at 876-8903, or Granite City police at 877-6111.

A Madison County grand jury Thursday returned indictments against three men, each charged with three counts of armed robbery in local cases. Named in true bills were Duane Porter, 20, Andre Vernell Jones, 17, and Maurice Wells, all of East St. Louis.

Porter was arrested nearby a short time later and Jones was arrested two days later at his home. The third arrest came later.

Porter's bond was increased from $10,000 to $20,000. Wells, who was not previously arrested was placed under $20,000 bond and Jones was held last week in the county jail in lieu of $20,000 bond.

At present, Webb is chairman of the Right-of-Way Committee and a member of the Health

WILLIAM B. WEBB

Institutions Committee and Executive Committee.

A county board member 23 years, he has served continuously on committees related to the county juvenile detention program since it began 17 years ago. He was a leader in obtaining establishment of the present juvenile home building, authorized in a bond issue election.

An overseas World War II veteran, he is past commander of Amvets Post 51 and a member of the Madison County Veterans' Commission.

3-way Appellate Democratic race

ROBERT B. MAUCKER

Robert B. Maucker, Alton, who will be 59 years old on the day of the March 19 primary election, is one of three persons seeking one of the Fifth District Appellate judicial posts.

Born in Rock Island, he attended schools there and received a bachelor degree from Augustana College in Rock Island. He earned a legal degree in 1959 from the University of Illinois College of Law and has a general practice of law and appeal cases in state and federal courts.

Maucker is the 1973-74 president of the Madison County Bar Association and headed the Alton-Wood River Bar group two terms.

Chairman of the Illinois State Bar Economics Committee in 1967-68, he is a member of the American Judicature Society and American Bar Association.

He was a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1942 to 1945.

"There are no real campaign issues as I see it," Maucker commented to the Press-Record.

"It is primarily a matter of qualification. Both Charles Jones of McLeansboro and I have been endorsed by the lawyers in the Bar Association poll. None of the other candidates were so endorsed."

"The only other issue I know of is that some people Downstate feel a Downstate man should be elected to the Appellate Court instead of a lawyer in Madison County."

"Actually, for the past three years, there have been three of the four judges on that court from Southern Illinois, as compared to one from this area."

"In addition, about 85 per cent of the cases come from the Madison-St. Clair Counties area. Frankly, I do not think geography is much of an issue."

CHARLES E. JONES

One of three candidates for one of the Appellate Court judicial positions, Charles E. Jones, 49, McLeansboro, has three years of experience as a justice of the Fifth Appellate District.

Chief judge of the Second Judicial Circuit in 1969-70, Jones was appointed by the Illinois Supreme Court as an Appellate judge for the period of Jan. 1, 1971, to Jan. 1, 1974.

Born in McLeansboro, he attended schools there and the University of Illinois, where he obtained a bachelor of science degree in 1948 and a law degree in 1950.

He served in the Army Air Corps from 1942 to 1945, being assigned to the Fifth Air Force in the Southwest and Western Pacific. He was awarded the Air Medal.

Jones practiced law in McLeansboro from 1950 to 1954 and was elected Hamilton County judge for the 1954-58 term.

He became an associate circuit judge in 1962 and was elected as circuit judge in 1964.

He and his wife, Doris, have a son, Paul, 20, and a daughter, Sarah, 16.

He is a member of the United Methodist Church, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Masonic order and the Southern Illinois and Hamilton County Bar Associations.

Noting that the 37-county Madison and St. Clair County Democratic organizations are supporting a Madison County resident for the other Appellate Court position.

"I protest the violence that has been done to the open primary concept by these two counties," he comments.

"Judicial candidates in particular should be judged on the basis of who they are and what they are—not on where they reside."

"If these joint endorsements result in all being chosen by the party powers in St. Clair and Madison Counties, a grave disservice will be done to the rest of the district."

Carlisle adds, "Most of my years in law practice have been in state and federal courts in Cook County, although just before World War II I spent a couple of years in Greene County."

"Twice, in Northern Illinois, I was approved and clear as qualified for judicial position by the Judicial Screening Committee of the Chicago Bar Association—most recently about three years ago."

VON ALLAN CARLISLE

Von Allan Carlisle, a March 19 primary election candidate, resides in Trenton and has law offices in Carlyle.

He has 25 years of experience as an attorney in state and federal trial and appellate courts, including seven years as a special assistant Illinois attorney general, and for two years was a Midwest regional attorney and then director of the Small Business Administration.

A World War II veteran, he is making his first try for elective office to "give representation on the court to the 35 smaller counties in the 37-county district."

His Navy service was as a lieutenant in the Pacific theater.

Married and the father of two daughters, Carlisle holds a law degree from Washington University of St. Louis and formerly was a teacher of speech and coach of debate.

He notes that the Illinois Supreme Court has upheld an election board decision to allow a St. Clair County candidate to run unopposed for one of the two appellate posts.

Carlisle says both the Madison and St. Clair County Democratic organizations are supporting a Madison County resident for the other Appellate Court position.

"I protest the violence that has been done to the open primary concept by these two counties," he comments.

"Judicial candidates in particular should be judged on the basis of who they are and what they are—not on where they reside."

"If these joint endorsements result in all being chosen by the party powers in St. Clair and Madison Counties, a grave disservice will be done to the rest of the district."

Carlisle adds, "Most of my years in law practice have been in state and federal courts in Cook County, although just before World War II I spent a couple of years in Greene County."

"Twice, in Northern Illinois, I was approved and clear as qualified for judicial position by the Judicial Screening Committee of the Chicago Bar Association—most recently about three years ago."

School contracts awarded

The Granite City Board of Education last week awarded contracts totaling $15,832 to 11 companies for sports supplies and equipment for fall, spring and winter sports for both high schools and Coddage, Grigsby and Prather Junior high schools.

All contracts were awarded on the basis of low bid to specifications. Contracts were awarded to Bailey & Himes $1,106, Black & Co., $98, Champion Products $1,095, Cohen Athletic $175, Economy Sporting Goods $2,306, Illini Sporting Goods $2,909, J & N Distributors $2,562, Mendoza Sporting Goods $3,343, Nichols Wrestling Products $610, O'Sullivan Sports $108, and Tappe Sporting Goods $774.

The purchases cover all sports except baseball. Funds are not available in this year's budget, so the bills will be paid at the start of the new fiscal year in July, it was explained.

Readily rising prices were cited as the reason for purchasing items now for nearly an entire year. The items cost about 25 per cent more this year than last year, Victor Anderson, comptroller, told board members.

Five bidders were selected on low bids to supply cafeteria paper goods for the school lunch program. Contracts were awarded to: Allen Foods, Inc., $649; Clark Products, Inc., $3,575; Smith-Schaff Paper Co., $3,602; and Switzers, Inc., $7,218.

Anderson said the purchases include enough paper for the remainder of this school year and all the next school year. He again cited rapidly rising prices on paper as the reason.

O'Neil Lumber Co. was low bidder on siding, trim, siding nails and caulking for a house being constructed by building trades students. The contract was for $1,225.

Contracts for film for audio visual departments were awarded to Aves-Midwest Co., for $1,046, and Da-Con Corp. for $413.

Atlas Seed and Hardware Co. was selected to supply grass seed for athletic fields and school campuses this year on a bid of $1,670.

The board enabled a motion to award a contract for a steel storage building for the North High School. The low bid did not meet specifications on the guarantee against the exterior paint chalking.

Bids were $17,400 from Crook General Contracting for a Butler Building, $19,791 from Ed Moore Construction Co. for a Republic Steel Building, $19,915 from G. H. Sternberg & Co. for an Armo Building and L. Wolf Co. for an Inland Ryerson Steel Building.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, was requested to reconsider all bids and give a report to the board at its next meeting. The board agreed to consult with its attorney about awarding the bid to a company not meeting the specifications in the bid notice.

Heubner said a building about 50 feet by 30 feet by 12 feet tall with a control area for operating scoreboards is needed near the North athletic field.

The building would be used for the storage of athletic equipment, outside equipment and grounds maintenance equipment. It would not be heated.

It could be constructed using current building operating funds, with later purchases from that fund being made on credit, to be paid from next year's funds.

He said no funds are available at this time in the new construction fund for the building.

Purchases for the special education to physically handicapped program included two captain chairs for $25 from ABC School Supply, one kindergarten chair from Preston Co. at $77, a sitting study table and walker combination from G. E. Miller Co. for $272, and two wheelchairs from Preston Co. for $1,000. Of the price of the wheelchairs, a state grant will pay $1,016, leaving the cost to the district only $13.

The board approved filing of the district's second semester claim for reimbursement of the vocational-occupational and night school course. Last year a $127,306 reimbursement was received and a similar amount is expected this year, board members were told.

Also approved was a request to submit an application for previously impounded Title III funds which have been released. The total has not yet been prepared but approval was necessary in order to meet the March 15 deadline for submitting the document.

The reimbursement this year from Title III funds will be $22,637, the board was told. Authorization to submit the claim also was given.

Gifts accepted by the board included about $300 from the Logan School Parent-Teacher Association to purchase games for the school and a $1,850 video tape recorder to be purchased from funds raised by activities at Prather Junior High School.

The Granite City Post Office was given permission to order free kids for third through fifth grade classes which include booklets, posters and films about the working of the postal system.

Arrested on theft charge

Robert Abernathy, 16, of 1646 Fifth St., Madison, was arrested at his home Thursday on a warrant charging him with theft. He pleaded innocent in court where bond was set at $5,000.

Abernathy's band radio, an antenna and a trouble light were stolen March 1 from the pickup truck of Russ Lockridge, 2122 Munster Ave., parked at Lockridge's home. The radio later was recovered in a stolen car at 30th and Iowa streets after having been stolen from Sixth Street in Madison.

County Panel Meets Today

$40 an Hour . . .

By Jim Broadway Of the Intelligencer

In typical style, the Madison County Board's Environmental Control Committee met for an hour and ten minutes today and accomplished little more than meeting its members' requirements for claiming $40 each in per diem, to be paid from county tax funds.

The only action taken by the committee today was the approval of about $30 in bills, mostly for equipment and supplies for the county Environmental Control Department's laboratory.

Although the committee approved the bills today, they cannot be paid until approved by the full county board on March 20. By that time, the committee will have met three more times.

The committee meets each Monday morning in the office of department administrator Paul Hawkins.

During the fiscal year, more than $10,000 in per diem and mileage claims will be paid to the committee members for attending their weekly get-togethers.

The Environmental Control Committee members are among the best paid members of the County Board; each of the five committee members also serves on one or more of the other board committees.

County Board members receive $40 for each board or committee meeting they attend, plus 15 cents per mile travel allowance for driving to and from the meetings.

The members of the committee are: chairman Carl Buehler of Granite City; George Walter of Godfrey; Paul Riebold of Troy; Wayne Bridgegawler of Roxana; and Jay Maurer of Venice.

At today's meeting, Walter and Maurer were silent. Most of the discussion was led by Riebold, a farmer, who is one of the better informed of the committee members on most aspects of environmental control.

In addition to approving claims that could have waited three weeks for approval, the committee today heard a routine report from Hawkins on four violations of county sanitation ordinances that were reported since last week.

Hawkins handles such violations without assistance from the committee, except when authorization to prosecute is needed, which is rare and was not the case today.

Committee members spent most of the meeting discussing department concerns such as noxious weeds, illegal dumping, mine waste pollution and laboratory testing.

Today's discussion was virtually identical to discussions that the committee members engage in weekly to extend the length of their meeting to its average length of about an hour.

Autos using frames produced here have much to offer in convenience, comfort, travel safety, efficient utilization of scarce, costly fuel

The scarcity and cost of gasoline have prompted many Americans to switch from "big" to "small" cars, either literally or in their future plans.

With less need for the frames that are utilized in producing standard and luxury autos, there has been a sharp cutback in General Motors frame orders to be supplied at the A. O. Smith Corp. frame plant. This has drastically reduced the size of the staff employed here.

While the tide of public opinion is running so powerfully on this subject that it is not going to be altered overnight, we wonder if the conclusion reached by many people is accurate.

There is some relationship between the weight of a vehicle and the amount of fuel needed to propel it along streets and highways. But other factors also affect gasoline consumption, and we have heard of many instances in which standard cars have been achieving as good or better mileage than smaller autos.

This is particularly true now that a speed limit of 55 miles an hour has been imposed throughout the nation.

Massive service to community, world by Rotary Club in past 50 years

Rotary International on March 12, 1924, accepted Granite City as one of its official clubs, sanctioning a group of businessmen that had been meeting for several weeks at the old White Star Restaurant here.

Tomorrow, exactly 50 years later, there will observe the milestone by holding a dinner dance at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Although Tuesday's commemoration will be festive, the club itself during the past half century has been far more than an enjoyable way for people of diverse business interests to meet across a dinner table.

Countless tangible recreational and lifesaving facilities have been built or financed by Granite City Rotarians, including buildings at a number of scout camps and equipment for the YMCA, St. Elizabeth Hospital and firefighters.

In addition, thousands of dollars have been provided in the form of scholarships and other aid to students in and throughout the world.

Goals include community service, fostering of international understanding, good will and peace and emphasis on high ethical standards in professions and business transactions.

A new dimension added 11 months ago is a series of prayer breakfasts at which people of all walks of life share views and implement plans to solve specific challenges confronting Granite City and the surrounding area.

A guiding principle followed by William Carter, District Governor Kenneth Evers, Granite City Rotary President Joseph Hassler and their fellow Rotarians is outlined in the time-honored Four-Way Test: "Is it the truth? Is it fair to all concerned? Will it build good will and better friendships? And will it be beneficial to all concerned?"

New pension legislation

Remarks below were delivered by Representative Melvin Price (D., 23rd Ill. District) on the floor of the House of Representatives in support of bill H.R. 2, the Employee Benefit Security Act.

Congressman Price is a co-sponsor of the legislation, which would impose minimum standards on private retirement pension plans.

Pension safeguards are becoming increasingly important as the private plans grow and increasing numbers of Americans come to depend upon them as major sources of retirement income.

An estimated 25 to 30 million Americans are covered today, and their number is expected to reach 42 million by 1980.

Pension plan assets now exceed $150 billion and are expected to be $225 billion by 1980. Such funds have become a major source of investment capital.

Yet there is still no law governing the management of such funds or assuring that workers will receive the pensions they have been promised, even though workers may have been contributing toward them for many years.

A recent government study shows that in 1972 there were 1,227 plans terminated involving 42,000 claimants.

The total present value of the lost benefits amounted to $48.7 million for all claimants and $34.4 million for those retired, eligible for retirement, or whose rights were fully vested.

There are two outstanding examples of the situation this legislation is intended to remedy in the 23rd Illinois District.

The closing of the General Steel and American Zinc plants adversely affected the pensions of many workers who had not put in 30 years of service before they were terminated.

All contributions to the pension fund were lost to these workers, and most were too old to find other employment but not old enough to collect governmental benefits such as Social Security.

The impact current inadequacies in pension regulations have had in my Congressional district persuaded me to become one of the original co-sponsors of H.R. 2 and work for its enactment.

Under this bill, a company offering a pension plan would be required to extend coverage to every employee who has reached the age of 25 with one year of service.

An employee's right in his pension plan would vest (that is, become legally enforceable) under one of three minimum standards: (a) Graduated vesting beginning with at least 25 per cent after three years, increasing to 100 per cent after 15 years.

(b) 100 per cent after 10 years, with nothing before that period of time.

(c) 50 per cent when years of service and age of employee total 45, 100 per cent per year over next five years.

Most employees would have 100 per cent vesting after 15 years of service.

Adequate funding would be required for current and prior liabilities of the fund, and strict fiduciary standards would be established for persons who manage pension funds. This is to protect the fund's existence.

An insurance program would be created to protect against plan termination, as well as a reporting and disclosure requirement so that information about a plan and its transactions may be monitored.

Enforcement of the bill's provisions would be carried out by the Labor Department and the Internal Revenue Service.

On the other hand, a "plug" is an imposition on the taxpayer. If the salaries of county offices are high just so that employees are more content to pay the tax, then the taxpayer is not getting his money's worth.

Even more unfair, all taxpayers—whether or not they support the party in power—are forced to contribute to the incumbent party's campaign expenses.

The taxpayer suffers in another and more subtle way. When county patronage employees are paid county salaries so that the percentage demanded to finance elections was not a real hardship.

But St. Clair employees received no increase this year, and prices of all consumer goods have skyrocketed. The required percentage payment from their income will mean a deprivation.

Party should limit self to legal funds

To the Editor:

I am calling on Francis Touchette and other county officials to renounce the "plug." Patronage workers and county officials resent the fact that the custom has become ingrained, and individuals are helpless to do away with it.

In recent years county employees have been paid excellent salaries so that the percentage demanded to finance elections was not a real hardship.

End per diem pay, mileage expenses

To the Editor:

I have weathered the coldest nights and frigid temperatures trying to meet every citizen in our district.

I have issued newsletters detailing, in part, what news media have uncovered about operational practices of our local County Board.

I sincerely pledge: "I will not recommend and vigorously strive for a discontinuance of per diem payment to county board members and urge a flat salary for each elected person of $3,400 per year with no mileage allowance. This would be a savings of many thousands of tax dollars."

2. To recommend and strive for an upgrading of Kirkpatrick River, including establishment of a well-kept park area for the children.

3. To establish and maintain a definite place and time for meeting my district residents, on a regular basis, for a personal "accountability session," besides being available at all times for problems that any district resident may incur.

4. To work for adequate management proposals for new developments to eliminate repetition of Dobry Slough conditions.

5. To work for a new county jail, which incidentally has been recommended by nearly every grand jury for the past 20 years.

6. To strive to reverse the board policy of less service for more money. For a welcome change, let's have less money spent and more service for the dollar.

much as six times the cost of just building a new tower to the exact scale of the Paris tower.

However, this businessman knows the only way to capitalize on history is with history itself. How many businessmen, if it were at all possible, would jump at the chance to purchase the confluence site of the two world known rivers, the "Great Father of Waters," the Mississippi, and the Missouri River as they are viewed in the undeveloped Illinois Lewis and Clark State Memorial Park?

Shall Illinois restore Camp Dubois at the confluence by 1976?

7. To work to change the meeting time of the county board from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. so interested residents may attend.

I am thankful to each and every person who has listened to me, read my newsletters or both.

To those I have disturbed late in the evening during a cold winter night, I appreciate their trust in opening their doors, many inviting me in and others serving a warm cup of coffee to break the chill.

I have met many nice people and made, I hope, many new and lasting friendships.

River confluence our 'Eiffel Tower'

To the Editor:

A businessman in South Carolina seeks to purchase the Eiffel Tower from France and, with painstaking dismantling procedure, move it piece by piece across land and sea to the United States.

Painstakingly, piece by piece, he would rebuild it on American soil.

If France decides to sell this great piece of history, it will cost this American businessman and his associates millions of dollars—perhaps as much as six times the cost of just building a new tower to the exact scale of the Paris tower.

However, this businessman knows the only way to capitalize on history is with history itself. How many businessmen, if it were at all possible, would jump at the chance to purchase the confluence site of the two world known rivers, the "Great Father of Waters," the Mississippi, and the Missouri River as they are viewed in the undeveloped Illinois Lewis and Clark State Memorial Park?

ELMER M. HART

How many would move it to their state for a world tourist attraction?

They would pay millions and would move mountains of obstacles to carry out the plan because of its great tourist attraction potential, as with the effort now before France for the Eiffel Tower.

Shall Illinois restore Camp Dubois at the confluence by 1976?

Party should limit self to legal funds

To the Editor:

I am calling on Francis Touchette and other county officials to renounce the "plug." Patronage workers and county officials resent the fact that the custom has become ingrained, and individuals are helpless to do away with it.

In recent years county employees have been paid excellent salaries so that the percentage demanded to finance elections was not a real hardship.

But St. Clair employees received no increase this year, and prices of all consumer goods have skyrocketed. The required percentage payment from their income will mean a deprivation.

On the other hand, a "plug" is an imposition on the taxpayer. If the salaries of county offices are high just so that employees are more content to pay the tax, then the taxpayer is not getting his money's worth.

Even more unfair, all taxpayers—whether or not they support the party in power—are forced to contribute to the incumbent party's campaign expenses.

The taxpayer suffers in another and more subtle way. When county patronage employees are paid county salaries so that the percentage demanded to finance elections was not a real hardship.

But St. Clair employees received no increase this year, and prices of all consumer goods have skyrocketed. The required percentage payment from their income will mean a deprivation.

Progress in progress

By FRED P. SCHUMAN
Chief Circuit Judge
Third Judicial Circuit, of Illinois

The following is a report to the people of Madison and Bond Counties on the business of the Court, Third Judicial Circuit of Illinois:

The Third Judicial Circuit consists of Madison and Bond Counties with a population close to 300,000.

There are 16 judges in the circuit, eight circuit judges and eight associate judges.

Circuit Judges—Joseph Barr, William L. Beatty, Harold R. Clark, John DeLaurenti (Bond County), John Gitchoff, Moses Harrison II, Victor J. Mosele and Fred P. Schuman.

Associate Judges—Thomas Gibbons, Arthur Greenwood, Merlin Hiscot, William Johnson, Andreas Matosian, Harry Mondkirk, Kent Trone and Clayton Williams.

The circuit judges are elected by the people. The associate judges are appointed by the circuit judges for a term of four years.

All of the judges are subject to disciplinary procedures provided under the new Illinois Constitution of 1970 which provides for a Judicial Inquiry Board and a Court's Commission to investigate and hear complaints pertaining to judges.

The Constitution of Illinois also provides that the circuit judges shall select a chief judge from their number to serve at their pleasure, and that the chief judge shall have general administrative authority over the court.

I was appointed chief judge in December 1972 and with the other circuit judges comprise a new program in the handling of cases.

We have set up regular meetings with law enforcement groups and meetings with citizen groups for the purpose of obtaining their views on matters affecting the court system, and to improve on communications between the court and the public generally.

We desire that the news media be aware of our desire to do a good job, and welcome cooperation with them in the process of carrying on the functions of the court.

I am sure that if we continue to improve on our facilities that we have the personnel to make our Circuit one of the best in Illinois.

But these great constitutionalists are gone now and four of the current nine are appointed and under the guarantees Americans have had political liberties beyond those enjoyed in any of the other Western democracies.

None of these liberties, however, is as secure now as it was in the past, before the nation for a number of reasons—slipped into a spirit of increasing disillusion and discontent.

As for the free press guarantee, it is suddenly facing a critical test before the Supreme Court of the United States in a challenge that threatens to eviscerate the Amendment which has given the American press its unique independence and its generally recognized position, imperfect as it is, as the best press in the world.

What lends the threat a certain urgency is the recent experience in the Watergate affair, in which the press has witnessed both a triumph and a dramatic recovery in popularity.

In "the Watergate" a few newspapers, most of all the Washington Post, were instrumental in uncovering a great conspiracy in the White House to subvert the political processes of the republic itself.

The issue that the Supreme Court has now placed on its docket was framed in a startling decision by the Supreme Court of Florida, upholding the constitutionality of an old anti-press statute that had lain unattended for decades until it was invoked in 1972, at Miami, by state legislative candidate.

As it happens, at least two of the Florida justices have old personal vendettas with the press of Florida.

But, in any case, what the majority of the state court held was that a newspaper may be compelled to print a reply from a political candidate when he is "assailed" by a newspaper.

It may sound innocent enough to the uninitiated, and it is true that most newspapers routinely print replies and counterattacks from offended politicians, anyway.

But the basic truth is that at any time a newspaper is compelled to print anything then at that point the free press ceases to be free, by definition, because freedom and compulsion are antithetical.

Just a few years ago the press-gate act moldering on the Florida statute books could have been regarded as more than a nuisance, for it was incontestable that it could have gotten past the U.S. Supreme Court in the time of Hugo Black.

The Florida press-gate law should be upheld, somehow, in the U.S. Supreme Court, it would authorize restrictions upon the press unlike any imposed in the history of the country.

We also advocated and obtained three new courtrooms, a jury assembly room, a grand jury room, and other facilities needed to carry on the load of the court. We also had appointed three additional court reporters.

Under the new program and with the additional facilities, we are better able to move cases. We now have seven courtrooms in Edwardsville, one in Granite City, one in Alton and one in East Alton.

Over 300 jurors are called to the courts each month to try all civil and criminal cases. With the assistance and cooperation of the circuit clerk, state's attorney, public defender and lawyers, we are happy to report that all categories of cases are being promptly disposed of.

I have just completed analysis of the ongoing and termination of the cases in Madison County which are on file in my office.

In Madison County, there was a total of 42,106 cases filed in 1973, and 45,662 cases were terminated.

The filing of all cases averages better than 3,500 a month.

We have set up regular meetings with law enforcement groups and meetings with citizen groups for the purpose of obtaining their views on matters affecting the court system, and to improve on communications between the court and the public generally.

We desire that the news media be aware of our desire to do a good job, and welcome cooperation with them in the process of carrying on the functions of the court.

I am sure that if we continue to improve on our facilities that we have the personnel to make our Circuit one of the best in Illinois.

'Right of reply' ruling can curb free press

Rock, Ark.—The First Amendment to the United States Constitution is a unique instrument and under the guarantees Americans have had political liberties beyond those enjoyed in any of the other Western democracies.

None of these liberties, however, is as secure now as it was in the past, before the nation for a number of reasons—slipped into a spirit of increasing disillusion and discontent.

Four seek Democratic central committee post

CAROLYN CHAPMAN

Mrs. Carolyn Chapman, 50, Belleville, is one of four aspirants for the position of 23rd District Democratic State Central Committee member. She is married to Dr. Robert A. Chapman, who practices internal medicine in Belleville, and they have two married daughters.

She has been chairman of the St. Clair County Community Mental Health Board from 1970 to the present. She did undergraduate study at the University of Chicago in 1942-43.

A member of the League of Women Voters since 1945, she was president of the Belleville unit in 1961-63 and has done research and writing on St. Clair County and its health and welfare services.

President of the St. Clair County Medical Auxiliary in 1961, Mrs. Chapman was named "outstanding St. Clair County citizen" in 1971 by the Health and Welfare Council.

She has organized and operated poll-watching programs in East St. Louis from 1970 until the present. This activity led to a suit by the League of Women Voters of the United States, still pending in federal courts, against the St. Louis election board.

Her goals include "cleaning up the Democratic party, opening up the primary, letting in new faces and ideas, sweeping out campaign financial lugs and airing out the smoke-filled political rooms." Mrs. Chapman adds that "party officials should be available to consult with, not dictate to, precinct committeemen. The committeemen should make most party decisions, and campaign funding should be a public affair, not a series of lugs and kickbacks." "A strong party is a people's party, not a big machine."

Alvin Fields

Alvin G. Fields Sr., the incumbent, is one of four persons seeking the Democratic State Central Committee post in 23rd District balloting March 19.

Former longtime mayor of East St. Louis, Fields is semi-retired due to ill health but has remained active in St. Clair County and regional political activities, some visible and some behind the scenes.

There was speculation that a concerted effort would be made to defeat Fields as committeeman this year, and for a

JAMES F. CHAPMAN

James F. Chapman, Collinsville, is a candidate for Illinois State Democratic Central Committee from this district in the March 19 election.

He retired in 1972 after serving 16 years as Madison County recorder of deeds. As recorder, he established an entirely new filing system in line with present-day methods, a photostat machine providing an exact copy for records.

A program of micro-filming all deeds for the county enabled them to be kept compactly and safely.

Record amounts of excess fees were turned over to the county treasury after meeting all expenses and salaries of the office.

Chapman and his wife, Tessie, have three children, Mrs. Nancy Willett, Mrs. JoAnn Masch and James Jr.

Chapman is a member of the Presbyterian Church, where he has served at all its governing bodies and as a member of the choir.

He belongs to Masonic Lodge 712 of Collinsville, and has served as a deputy county clerk, deputy county treasurer, secretary to the Board of Review and assistant to the chief deputy sheriff.

In July 1967, Chapman received a certificate of merit from the National Association of County Recorders and Clerks.

His backers describe him as "efficient, capable, affable and congenial."

time new St. Clair County Board Chairman Francis Touchette considered entering the committeeman election.

With four candidates filing, there is widespread speculation that the voting may be so splintered that Fields can gain re-election.

The district is dominated to a degree by St. Clair County voters because its boundaries include only a portion of Madison County.

Those running from this county are James F. Chapman, Collinsville, endorsed by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, and Richard Allen, Granite City.

St. Clair area candidates are Fields of East St. Louis and Mrs. Carolyn Chapman of Belleville.

Fields owns the Alvin G. Fields Plumbing and Heating Co. contracting firm in East St. Louis.

RICHARD ALLEN

Richard Allen, candidate for Democratic State Central Committee in the 23rd Congressional District, is 48 years of age and a lifelong resident of Granite City.

He is married and has three children, aged 17, 15 and 10, and resides at 2279 Westchester Drive. He is the son of Lucia Allen and the late Milton R. Allen.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Granite City and has served on the board of trustees. His other past civic services include Boys' Club leader for the Tri-City Area YMCA, treasurer of the Niedringhaus School PTA and a member of the Madison County Mental Health Board.

Formerly a member of the American Veterans' Committee, Coalition for the Environment and the Physical Research Society of St. Louis, he served as a member of the board of directors of the Madison County Legal Aid Society.

Allen is now serving as a member of the board of directors and vice-president of the Coordinated Youth Services, and is on the board of directors of the Tri-City Area YMCA.

A member and trustee of the Madison County Bar Association, he is a member of the Tri-City Bar Association, St. Louis Bar, Americans for Democratic Action, Americans for Separation of Church and State, Common Cause and Madison County Citizens Environmental Council.

Affiliated with the Illinois Trial Lawyers Association, Allen is a hearing officer for the American Arbitration Association and Environmental Protection Agency.

A veteran of World War II, he served with the 13th Armored Division of the U. S. Army in France, Germany and Austria, seeing service with General Patton's Third Army.

Allen is a graduate of Illinois College and the St. Louis University School of Law. He is now practicing law with offices at 2945 Madison Ave., Granite City.

His practice consists primarily of personal injury litigation, workman's compensation and criminal law.

He is a former city attorney of Granite City and also assistant state's attorney of Madison County. Presently, he is on the staff of the public defender's office in Madison County.

Lions pancake brunch April 7

"The finest service is assured at our pancake brunch on Palm Sunday," Anthony Anselmo, who will serve as "head waiter" for the event, announced this week.

Anselmo was referring to the 18th Annual Madison Lions Club pancake brunch April 7 at the Madison Recreation Center, with serving from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The pancake brunch is the major fund-raising project of the Madison club. Proceeds from the event go to help the Lion's sight conservation work for the blind, and hearing conservation for the deaf.

Locally, the Lions Club co-sponsors Explorer Scout Post 104. Lions clubs are the largest single sponsors of the Scout units in the world.

Other projects the Madison club helps support include the Khoury League, CARE, and the United Way. Lion President Charles Miles and Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk will serve as the official hosts. Matt Ozanich and Avery Schermer are co-chairmen of the event.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years of age. Members of the Lions Club and Explorer Post 104 are selling tickets in advance.

"The pancake brunch of the Madison Lions has become a tradition in the Quad-City area and we again are looking for our many friends to help us in helping others," Lion President Miles said.

Lively competition for County Board position

LOUIS WHITSELL

Louis E. Whitsell, Nameoki Township supervisor, is seeking re-election as District 26 Madison County Board member.

A lifelong resident of Madison County, he has served two terms as a Democratic precinct committeeman and is a past Nameoki town clerk.

He serves on the Parks and Recreation Committee, Four-Township Sewer Committee, Building-Zoning-Subdivision Control, Education Committee, Executive Committee and County Museum Committee.

Whitsell, 37, is chairman of the Parks-Recreation, Education and Museum Committees.

Former first vice-president of Retail Clerks Local 435, he is a member of Tool and Die Makers Lodge 688, Masonic Lodge 877, the American Legion, Township Officials, Chamber of Commerce and Truth and Action Party.

A graduate of Granite City High School, he finished courses at SIU and Hadley Technical School. He served in the Marine Corps Reserve in 1954-64.

A tool and die maker at Ehrhardt Tool and Machine Co., he previously was employed at Cohen's Market. He is married and has five daughters. The family is active in the Glenview Assembly of God Church.

Whitsell believes that many "tend to criticize those County Board members who do all the work. The ones who do nothing never get criticism."

He adds, "All persons who are expected to give their time, knowledge and labor are entitled to receive compensation for their services."

"If it ever gets to the point that elected officials are expected to work for nothing, only the dishonest or the rich will be able to serve."

"I favor a salary because it will attract less criticism, but on the per diem system only those members who attend the sessions and do their jobs will get paid. The salary tends to allow members to 'skip out' on the 'hot' meetings."

"To balance the county budget, we need to:

"A. Call on our state legislators to furnish state monies to replace the losses of personal property tax, fees, etc."

"B. Declare a moratorium on hiring additional employees."

"C. Study the need for employees in over-staffed offices—a job for an administrative assistant."

"D. Consolidate services where possible."

"E. Stop the practice of purchasing new equipment when unnecessary."

"F. Keep courtrooms open eight hours a day to require less courtroom space."

"G. Call the minimum

EDGAR PATRICK

Edgar A. Patrick, 55, of 3819 Pontoon Road, seeks election to the Madison County Board in District 26 and is one of three running in the March 19 Democratic primary for that position.

He was defeated by 21 votes, 640-619 for the board post two years ago.

He served as tax collector of Nameoki Township from 1969 to 1973, and is an Illinois Agriculture Department animal health investigator. A native of Mattoon, Ill., Patrick has resided in Nameoki Township for 27 years.

He has served as business representative for Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Local 102.

A graduate of Mattoon High School, he attended Dickinson College, Williamsport, Pa., and the Air Force Advanced Navigation School of Monroe, La. He served as an Air Force officer.

Patrick served as vice-chairman of the Pontoon Beach Public Water District board of directors and has been active in the Eagles and Disabled American Veterans.

A life member of the Amvets, he is a past district Amvets commander and past Illinois state judge advocate of the veterans' organization.

Patrick is married and has three sons. He has served on the executive board of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council. He has campaigned against per diem and expense abuses by board members and says the District 26 incumbent's multiple public offices have resulted in excessive pay for part-time services.

He says taxpayers are overburdened, and he pledges to work to eliminate unnecessary governmental spending.

BURGLARY ON LINCOLN

amount of people to jury duty and only when they are needed.

"H. Tighten up the purse strings on all expenditures."

"The existing services cannot be maintained in their present form without operating on a deficit."

"The most urgent issues may change from one month to the next, but I believe that land use is generally the most pressing. Of course, our losses of revenue will continue until the state corrects some of its legislative blunders."

BILL GIBBONS

Bill Gibbons, 45, of No. 15 Fontainebleau, is one of three candidates in the Democratic primary for election to the Madison County Board in District 26.

A local resident 13 years, he is a welder at Granite City Steel. Born in Elvins, Mo., he is a graduate of Bismarck High School.

Gibbons served in the Army from 1946 to 1949, including 28 months in Europe. In United Steelworkers Local 30, he has been shop steward, grievance committee member, recording secretary and member of numerous committees.

Married for 23 years, he has two children. He is a graduate of the United Steelworkers' Summer Steel Institute.

Gibbons favors federal-state-county-local cooperation to solve drainage and sewage treatment problems.

He regards reassessment of the entire county as essential for equitable taxation.

He comments, "We have a great need for more recreational development in this area. We need a comprehensive health program in the county, and must seek more industrial development for jobs and tax dollars."

"County Board committees should coordinate between themselves and the board to do away with overlapping authority and unnecessary per diem expenses."

"Efficiency and economy must be placed on the agenda," Gibbons asserts.

'Nice place to visit, but—'

It may be a nice place to visit, if you are very careful, but I sure don't want to live in New York City anymore," was the feeling expressed by Leo Scott, director of 7-Up International, at the Granite City Kiwanis Club meeting at Charlie's Restaurant Monday night.

Scott, who recently moved to St. Louis after living in New York for 25 years, said he was happy to move here.

He noted that the famous Times Square "used to be a great place to visit, but now you take your life in your own hands night or day." He said the entire city is crime ridden.

Kiwanian William Seebold announced that the club's annual boat races at Horseshoe Lake will be held Sunday, July 14.

Kelly Williams in Army exercises

Army Private First Class Kelly E. Williams, 19, son of Mrs. Doris M. Wright, 2308 August St., participated with some 4000 American and German soldiers in exercise Gordian Knot, conducted in Central Germany.

The five-day exercise, directed by Major General Jonathan R. Burton, 3rd Armored Division commander, provided German and American forces opportunities to develop small unit tactics.

PFC Williams is a gunner in Combat Support Company, 1st Battalion of the division's 36th Infantry in Friedberg. The private's wife, Deborah, lives on Meridian Ave.

Investment issue in county primary

George F. Musso, 63, of Edwardsville, currently is seeking re-election as treasurer of Madison County. He is one of two candidates for that office in the Democratic primary election.

Elected to his present four-year term as treasurer in 1970, he at that time was completing his second term as sheriff of Madison County, having first held the post from 1958 through 1962.

He was elected Madison County treasurer in 1962, serving in that position until 1966. For the first time in Illinois, treasurers and sheriffs can now seek successive terms.

Musso is married and has three married daughters. He and Mrs. Musso have lived in Edwardsville 36 years.

Musso was born in Collinsville, where he attended public schools. He obtained a bachelor degree at Millikin University.

Prior to his election as sheriff in 1958, he operated a restaurant and served as a deputy sheriff of Madison County and a parole officer for the state of Illinois.

He has been a member of the Moose and Elks lodges, the Lions Club, Edwardsville Gun Club, Madison County Police Association and National Sheriff's Association.

Musso has made extensive investments of reserve funds to provide interest earnings for the county treasury.

He has received re-election endorsement from the Madison County Democratic Central Committee. Citing his 29 years of governmental experience, he says the endorsement was made on merit.

Over $2 million has been earned since he initiated a broad investment policy, Musso estimates, adding that over 90 per cent of county funds are kept invested.

Data processing authorities

say it will be possible to mail tax bills a month before the first installment is due this year, reducing delays in collecting taxes and in distributing them to schools, cities and other taxing agencies, Musso reports.

He hopes to make distributions twice a month.

A former star professional football player with the Chicago Bears, Musso opposes direct bidding in the belief that major Chicago and St. Louis banks might obtain the funds.

He encourages high interest returns while at the same time endeavoring to place funds in the banks and savings and loan associations that pay taxes in Madison County.

Musso adds, "These investments of county government funds help the financial institutions have something to loan people in this county."

Michael S. "Mick" Henkhaus, 31, of 520 Engineers Road, Mitchell, is seeking the Democratic nomination for Madison County treasurer March 19 against incumbent Treasurer George Musso.

Henkhaus, an SIUE sophomore attending night school, is on a leave of absence as deputy probate clerk of the Madison County Circuit Court. He has two pre-school-age sons.

He served in the Army Reserve for six years and has nine years of experience as a deputy circuit clerk.

Active in the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Henkhaus was a member of the negotiating committee for county employees' 1974 contract.

He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Moose and Madison County Young Democrats.

Henkhaus comments, "I pledge to invest all available funds at the highest interest rate every year, not just in election years."

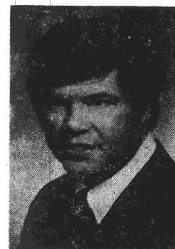

"I would pay all taxing bodies early to avoid their need to spend money on tax anticipation warrants."

"I would invite sealed bids from all county financial institutions to invest the $1,200,000 now invested at low interest; I would take the highest bids to assure the county more financial return."

"I would be an eight-hour-a-day treasurer. I would learn all the working divisions of the office. I would talk personally to any citizen and try to solve his problems," Henkhaus relates.

"I also am entering this race to give voters a chance to select who they want for county treasurer. This office is important, and taxpayers should have the opportunity to choose who they want to handle their tax collections and tax monies."

"This is the first time there is a choice for every position on the ballot, and I am urging party and independent voters to take advantage of this opportunity to make their wants known through the ballot box.

"Although I am only 31 years old, I have had nine years in administration and have been involved in political work and public service almost all my life—from passing out handbills and carrying papers, to hard campaigning to assist my friends, relatives and employees."

"I pledge to bring vigor, more efficiency with less cost, and especially responsiveness to patrons by being a full-time county treasurer—available to all who want to discuss their problems, with the purpose of trying to resolve them."

Daniel Partney, Carl Buehler primary foes

DANIEL PARTNEY

CARL BUEHLER

Daniel Partney, 54, of 2901 Edison Ave., is running in the Madison County Board District 21 Democratic primary election against the incumbent board member.

An estimator and vice-president at Granite Sheet Metal Works, he attended Granite City schools and Southern Illinois University. He and his wife, Beverly, have a son, Daniel.

A past Granite City Jaycee member, he holds lifetime membership in the International Supreme Council, Order of DeMolay.

He is a member of Granite City Masonic Lodge 877, the Scottish Rite and Ainal Shrine Temple.

A U. S. Army veteran, he served in Vietnam and was awarded the Bronze Star Medal, Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Silver Star, Vietnam Armed Forces Honor Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal, National Defense Medal and Good Conduct Medal.

He served as a military advisor to the Vietnamese prior to his honorable discharge from the Army in 1970.

A past member of the Retail Clerks Local 435, Partney is affiliated with Sheet Metal Workers Local 268.

He comments that, upon election, he would "try to get legislation to change the method of pay from a per diem system to a flat salary of $8,600, which would be a savings of thousands of dollars to the taxpayer."

"Besides being available to my constituents at all times, I would establish a place and time once a month for special personal accountability sessions."

"I would try to get legislation to change the time of County Board meetings from daytime to the evening so Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public, who pay all the bills, can get in on the action by attending meetings personally instead of by proxy."

Partney continues, "Issues that I consider important to the campaign include such factors as:

"A. Excessive cost of operation of the county board, starting with the salaries paid to members in Madison County compared to costs of other counties.

"B. Inefficient and costly operation of field activities, such as questionable repair to cars and excessive mileage charges by county officials.

"C. Contract awards to questionable firms.

"D. A seeming lack of dissent on issues that appear highly questionable.

"I feel I should be elected because a person apparently is needed who is economical, not afraid to speak up for the taxpayer, and one willing to do a public service with a public service attitude.

"To my knowledge, no such board representation is currently afforded the district in which I live.

"Furthermore, my decisions would be based on community wishes and not the dictates of practicing politicians and lobbyists," Partney concludes.

Carl V. Buehler, 2600 Madison Ave., seeks the Democratic nomination March 19 for reelection to the Madison County Board from District 21.

He currently serves on the Health Institutions Committee, which deals with the juvenile detention home, nursing home, tuberculosis clinic, shelter care home and mental health services.

Buehler, 40, operates a barber shop at his home. A local resident 40 years, he was born in Breese, Ill., and was educated in Granite City public schools.

Buehler formerly was employed at the former National Enameling and Stamping Co. plant from 1933 to 1940 and at the Castings Division of General Steel Industries from 1940 to 1946.

He is active in the Illinois State Association of Barbers, Barbers Local 483, Knights of Columbus, Eagles and Moose.

He and his wife and their five children are members of Sacred Heart Catholic Church. He is treasurer of Boy Scout Troop 15, sponsored by the Eagles.

Before being elected two years ago as a member of the present 29-man County Board, Buehler served multiple terms on the County Board of Supervisors as an assistant supervisor of Granite City Township.

In addition to his service on the Health Institutions Committee, Buehler is a member of the County Right-of-Way Committee which is currently active in acquiring property needed to extend Maryville Road as a four-lane roadway eventually connecting Route 162 with Route 203.

He also serves as chairman of the Environmental Committee, which has been instrumental in developing a new chemical laboratory expected to prove valuable in improving sanitation, curbing pollution and testing well water.

Krause Republican Appellate candidate

Lehman D. Krause, 48, Belleville, is the lone Republican candidate for nomination March 19 as a judge of the Appellate Court, 5th Judicial District of Illinois.

He was an accountant at the former Union Station and Refining Co. plant in Granite City and has been a lawyer for many years.

Born in Saline County, he resided in East St. Louis before working his way through Washington University, receiving an engineering degree. He served in both World War II and the Korean war.

He later worked as an engineer at McDonnell Aircraft Co. and obtained a second degree in chemical engineering.

Upon completing the University of Illinois College of Law, he married the former Miss June Schaffer, a teacher with a master's degree in religious education.

His law practice excludes corporations and governmental units, concentrating on representing individuals in state and federal courts. Occasionally, he serves as a hearing officer in pollution cases.

Krause has never lost a jury trial involving a felony.

His interests include preservation of natural resources. Citing his engineering background, he notes that all appeals from the Illinois Pollution Control Board go directly to the Appellate Court.

In 1967, he led efforts to have the new law degree, "juris doctor," granted retroactively to all prior Law School graduates of the University of Illinois. The new diplomas were awarded at a ceremony in February 1968.

He considers himself "an underdog, largely because of party label," in the 1974 balloting.

Krause reports he is the only Appellate candidate to file a financial statement going far beyond the required statement of economic interest. He also has acted to make his report public.

Krause says his home is valued at $15,000 and he has 400 shares of St. Joe Mineral Corp., 1,200 shares of Missouri Portland Cement Co., and 179 shares of National Steel Corp., plus four $1,000 bonds of the steel firm. His net worth is estimated at $64,131.

Of his law fees, none exceed $5,000.

He relates that he has never had an interest in horse racing, gambling, the liquor industry, tobacco industry or any insurance entity.

He is an advocate of tightening loopholes in the state candidate disclosure law.

Krause comments, "I do not own any farm or real estate outside of Illinois. This is an obvious weakness in the present law, which requires no such disclosure."

"My wife and I have about $3,000 cash in various accounts. Neither she nor I have any debts. This is another loophole: no requirement to account for cash. Even Paul Powell would not have been required to list the contents of his shoe boxes."

Feels better—sometimes

It's been almost two years since Ray Gean, 28, East 25th St., underwent a kidney transplant at the Mayo Clinic in Minneapolis, Minn.

Today, he feels good—sometimes. He says he feels better than before the operation.

Since his operation May 19, 1972, Gean has worked about six days. "I don't like sitting around home every day. I'd go back to work tomorrow if I could," he said.

When he feels good, he tries to stay busy to keep from becoming bored. "I get so bored, but we don't have money with which to do anything except get by," he said.

Every three months he flies to the Mayo Clinic for tests to determine the effectiveness of the transplanted kidney. He is scheduled to return March 22.

His kidney trouble was caused by fabry disease, which is inherited and causes the enzymes in the kidneys to stop functioning.

"Eventually, because the enzymes are not functioning, the kidneys die," Gean said. Presently, Gean has one transplanted kidney and one of his own kidneys. His doctors at the Mayo Clinic hope that the functioning of the transplanted kidney will initiate proper functioning of his own kidney. Prior to the transplant, Gean depended upon a kidney machine for four months. His doctors said that fabry disease will not spread to the transplanted kidney.

Because neither he nor his wife work, he receives social security benefits. Prior to his kidney ailment, he was employed by the Granite City Housing Authority.

Before going to the Mayo Clinic, he was treated at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. Through Barnes, the Mayo Clinic learned of his case and granted him a research plan by which he could afford the financial costs of transportation and treatment at Mayo's. The plan pays for all testing done at the clinic. Money collected by the local kidney fund helps him pay for his return trips to the clinic every three months.

Hearing on substate region

The first ten hearings on a proposed system of substate, regional districts have been scheduled by the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, including a hearing at the St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 14.

Director Frank A. Kirk said today, "A system of substate regions is being proposed to provide a common framework for the several federal subported planning programs that are often carried out on an areawide basis. "Some of these programs relate to law enforcement planning, health planning, programs for the aging and manpower planning. In addition, the state uses federal funds to help support areawide general purpose planning programs.

"The use of a uniform, sub-state framework would make such programs easier to coordinate," Kirk said. Nineteen substate districts are being proposed with the possibility that some of the districts can be grouped into larger areas for some planning purposes if certain criteria are met.

Region 13 would serve Madison, Johnson, Greene, Jersey, St. Clair, Bond, Clinton, Monroe, Randolph and Washington Counties.

residence to M-3, heavy industrial, not one objection was voiced by Mr. Whitsell even though he was well aware that tax revenue from this plant would have amounted to $40,000 per year for Nameki Township.

"As a former tax collector, I am well aware that the loss of this revenue means the money must come from some other source, in this instance, higher assessments resulted.

There are two ways to regain this money—higher assessments or a higher tax rate. Neither had to come about.

"Had your elected representative been protecting your interest, Nameki Township would have an additional $40,000 tax revenue from this plant," Patrick said.

"The end result is this—because of lack of active leadership by Mr. Whitsell, Nameki Township has lost $40,000 tax revenue per year.

"Nameki has gained a soybean processing plant, located physically in Nameki Township even though annexed to Granite City.

"Nameki Township has lost prime home building sites, located adjacent to the plant in Wilshire and the Pontoon Beach area.

"Only one objection was voiced to the building of this plant and I quote from the Press-Record of May 17, when Henry Gabriel said, 'I can see the community growing residential in that way and I can see in the future an elevator in the middle of a residential area.'

"The residents of Nameki Township have lost in not one way but two. They have lost $40,000 tax revenue per year and they have lost prime home building sites.

"They have gained a soybean processing plant in the heart of Nameki Township and all that goes with it—truck traffic, smells, rodents.

"Once again I called Mr. Whitsell my silent opponent and once again he remained silent—this time on a tax base that could have considerably relieved the higher taxes being paid by residents of Nameki Township.

"Tax relief does not lie in tax suits financed by residents. Tax relief lies with your elected representative who works to prevent the 'cargills' from becoming a reality.

"Tax relief lies in economy of operation—not unnecessary expenditures such as remodeling of the Town Hall or, as in a recent instance, the proposal to spend $13,000 to collect taxes which duplicates a function already being performed by the county.

"Nameki Township has not been receiving the quality of representation it deserves. This is but one more example of a man being privately employed on a full-time basis.

emergency room patients. Miss Moore said, "There is often a waiting period in the emergency room, and there are valid reasons for this. Many lab tests take 30 to 90 minutes to complete.

"X-rays that are taken must be read by a radiologist. Critically ill or injured people must be given priority. Often, patients check in with their family doctor to examine them.

"There are also abuses of the emergency room that further complicate the situation. People who have been ill with minor illness come to the emergency room rather than calling their family doctor.

"There is a lack of doctors taking new patients and there are some people who do not even try to find a physician and rely exclusively on the emergency room for all their needs.

"St. Elizabeth's emergency room provides other beneficial community services. It is a poison control center. The emergency room has records of all poisonous materials and the recommended physician and treatment to counteract the poison.

"A venereal disease clinic, under the direction of Dr. Jacob Cohen, is at the hospital. Patients can come for treatment beginning at 9 a.m. daily, except on Sundays. There is no charge and the information is kept confidential.

"St. Elizabeth also serves as an Area Trauma Center. This means that the hospital has the capability of handling 95 per cent of all trauma cases.

"Our emergency room has enjoyed years of success, but it is constantly dependent upon other hospital departments and staff to assist. An understanding and cooperative community is also necessary.

"No person can do justice to three jobs—even if he works 19 hours per day as recently stated by Mr. Whitsell.

"I am a candidate for one job—that of representative on the County Board, District 26. I will not be a candidate for a second office," Patrick concluded.

Wilson PTA to honor scouts

The Wilson School PTA board met last week to discuss plans for the regular meeting on March 19 and to hear reports on progress of current projects. Mrs. Harriet Evans, president, was in charge of the meeting and announced that in honor of Girl Scout month, the presented flag ceremony will be presented at the March 19 program by Junior Troop 267. Brownie and Girl Scout troops from the school will perform skits and dances using the subject, "A City of The Future" for their dramatic presentations.

Also to be featured on the program will be the students of the fifth and sixth grade level special interest classes who will display exhibits of their work and give demonstrations. Mrs. Maxine Borchers' "Kitchen engineers" will furnish the cookies.

A report was made by Mrs. Dorothy Baker who has assisted with the current fund-raising candy sale. She told the group the sale is nearly over but the committee still has 76 boxes to sell and would like to have the parents help in selling the balance of the boxes. Any parent who wishes to assist may send a note to the school designating the number of boxes they want.

Ted Vrenick, principal, reviewed the Area Council of Parent and Teachers award banquet which he attended. Mrs. Evans also noted a picnic committee is now being formed.

Consort will give concert

The John Biggs Consort will perform at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

The quartet's performance consists of chamber music on reproductions of authentic instruments.

In one program, the Consort can go through seven centuries of music, from a medieval dance to a contemporary piece for voices and electronic sounds.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN

We had a big response last week to our Lenten Fish Sale. Our supplies are good and we hope to feature all of these items all the way through Lent. Speaking of Lent, the Madison Lions 18th Annual Palm Sunday Pancake Breakfast will again be held at the Madison Recreation Center and Avery is again involved. Tickets are on sale here at the store.

Our Meat and Produce Department came up with the best buys last week and this week's features are also great in these two departments. Our Pork Loin Sale last week went very well. Strawberries and Tomatoes were the big items in the Produce Department.

We received the ultimate compliment last week. One of our customers told us about a telephone interview in which she was asked, "How would you like to have another store in your area like Schermers Bros?" We know we have a new competitor coming into Granite City and we wish them well; but, if they think that they are going to be another Schermers Bros., they are going to be sadly disappointed.

Briley-McKenzie wedding at Wood River Church

Miss Rhonda Jay McKenzie, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. A. J. McKenzie, 2900 Morgan Ave., became the bride of Specialist S. Wayne Briley, U. S. Army, son of Mrs. Della Briley, Fairmont City, on Feb. 28 at the Full Gospel Church in Wood River.

Equal pay desirable but women oppose forced military service

By PAT WATSON
With ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to be voted on in Springfield within the next few months, Illinois citizens are going to be hearing more and more about the proposed amendment to assure equality for women.

In a random survey on the status of women, Mrs. Patricia Brooks, 3008 Marshall Ave., said she feels that Illinois child support laws need to be strengthened.

"The laws need to be changed—presently, child support isn't fair."
"I received child support for a couple of months," she said, "and then the payments stopped coming. In order for me to get the payments again, I would have had to go to court and pay the court costs all over again."

She said she knows quite a few women who have had their child support payments stop after a few months, but they can't afford to go to court and pay the costs a second time.

Mrs. Brooks added, "I don't think women being drafted is fair. I know Israel and other countries do it, but women don't like blood and guts, at least I don't."

Alimony payments, she believes, are unfair and she agrees with the ERA philosophy that alimony should not be necessary.

She said, "If women are capable of work, then let them work."

Mrs. Harry Laughlin, 5140 Lakeview Drive, believes that if the ERA would help to gain equal wages for women, then she is for it.

If both the wife and husband in a family work, then both of them should be responsible for half of the home workload, she contends.

She feels that alimony payments should not necessarily be included in all divorce cases. She said, "In some cases, after a divorce, there is no reason that a man should continue to support the woman if she is capable of working."

"Is the ERA related to women's liberation?" asked Mrs. Eileen Nash, 2650 Edgewood Ave., when contacted. "I'm not too much for women's liberation."

"Some women work when it's not necessary for them to, and they take jobs from men who need the jobs," she said.

Equal wages for women? Mrs. Nash believes they need to be enforced.

"I don't agree that women should be drafted; voluntary joining the service is okay, but not being drafted," she said.

MR. WHITSELL WHY SO SILENT ABOUT CARGILL?

NEARING COMPLETION on Cargill Road is the Archer Daniels Midland Co. soybean processing plant which is to open in late spring. A crane here prepares to hoist a workers' ladder onto the tall distillatory tower behind it. At right, in the background, is the ADM grain elevator. (Press-Record Photo)

COULD IT BE TRUE ...
... that the people of Nameoki Township lost approximately $40,000 in existing tax revenue, collected annually, to Granite City when they annexed Cargill and ADM property on July 16, 1973, if so, why???

... that this loss alone will result now in higher assessments and taxes to the Nameoki Township property owners, if so: HOW MUCH???

... that you have been aware since this annexation was "questionable" since "the plant was separated from the city line by the railroad's property, allowing Nameoki Township to challenge the annexation," if so: DID YOU CHALLENGE BY ANY LEGAL ACTION???

... that if no legal action was taken, "the annexation would set a precedent leading to piecemeal dismemberment of Nameoki Township" since the site was not contiguous to any part of Granite City.

... that now a Multi-Million dollar soybean processing plant is now nearing completion at the Cargill site and tax revenue from industry this size eventually amounts to millions of dollars, if so: What does Granite City gets all this, WHAT DO NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP PROPERTY OWNERS GET???

... that the method of processing soybeans is similar to that of the corn processing plant in West Granville, if so, will be produce the same kind of odors and caustic fumes that known to be harmful to paint on homes and cars.

... that air pollution equipment can only control so much and the fact this plant has been designed to be "easily expandable to about four times that size" could increase the possible danger of "property values of thousands of township taxpayers."

... that you could have "organized a group of citizens to protect against unfair to Township Supervisor next year."

SPECIMEN BALLOT

PRIMARY ELECTION
MARCH 19, 1974
MADISON COUNTY
ILLINOIS

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING ON THE VOTING MACHINE

PULL the red handle of the curtain lever (lower left side of the machine) from the left to right as far as it will go and leave it there (this will close the curtain around you and unlock the machine for voting).

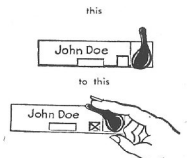

INSTRUCTIONS AFTER CLOSING THE CURTAIN

NOTE: At Primary Elections you are confined to make selections in only one party. The Party of your choice in which you declared yourself to be a member.

Also all voters should vote their choice of school trustees and questions.

On the ballot shown at the right you will find the title of office and the names of the candidates. Turn down the pointer at the right of the candidates you wish to vote for until an ☒ mark appears adjacent to each candidate's name and leave the ☒ mark showing.

Leaving the pointer or pointers down in their voting position, pull the red handle of the curtain lever to the left as far as it will go and leave it there (this will register your vote and return the pointers to their first position, after which the curtain will open).

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION, MACHINE VOTING

No votes are registered until you pull the curtain lever to the left to open the curtain. You can therefore MAKE AS MANY CHANGES IN YOUR BALLOT AS YOU WISH WHILE THE CURTAIN LEVER IS AT ITS EXTREME RIGHT (CURTAIN CLOSED).

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of pointers for an office. For example, if only one candidate is to be elected to any office you can turn down only one pointer for that office. If more than one candidate is to be elected to an office, you can turn down as many pointers up to the number of candidate to be elected to that office.

There is no danger of anyone knowing how you vote, as the movement of the curtain lever to the left records your vote and returns the voted pointer up to its unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

PRIMARY ELECTION
MARCH 19, 1974
MADISON COUNTY
ILLINOIS

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING ON THE VOTING MACHINE

PULL the red handle of the curtain lever (lower left side of the machine) from the left to right as far as it will go and leave it there (this will close the curtain around you and unlock the machine for voting).

INSTRUCTIONS AFTER CLOSING THE CURTAIN

NOTE: At Primary Elections you are confined to make selections in only one party. The Party of your choice in which you declared yourself to be a member.

Also all voters should vote their choice of school trustees.

On the ballot shown at the right you will find the title of office and the names of the candidates. Turn down the pointer at the right of the candidates you wish to vote for until an ☒ mark appears adjacent to each candidate's name and leave the ☒ mark showing.

to this

Leaving the pointer or pointers down in their voting position, pull the red handle of the curtain lever to the left as far as it will go and leave it there (this will register your vote and return the pointers to their first position, after which the curtain will again).

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION MACHINE VOTING

No votes are registered until you pull the curtain lever to the left to open the curtain. You can therefore MAKE AS MANY CHANGES IN YOUR BALLOT AS YOU WISH WHILE THE CURTAIN LEVER IS AT ITS EXTREME RIGHT (CURTAIN CLOSED).

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of pointers for an office. For example, if only one candidate is to be elected to any office you can turn down only one pointer for that office. If more than one candidate is to be elected to an office, you can turn down as many pointers up to the number of candidate to be elected to that office.

There is no danger of anyone knowing how you vote, as the movement of the curtain lever to the left records your vote and returns the voted pointer up to its unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

I, EULALIA HOTZ, COUNTY CLERK OF MADISON COUNTY, ILLINOIS, DO HEREBY CERTIFY THE FOREGOING IS A FULL, TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE OFFICIAL BALLOT TO BE VOTED AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION ON TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1974.

Geography—state treasurer issue?

JEANNETTE MULLEN

Mrs. Jeannette H. Mullen, 53, one of two seeking the state treasurer nomination in the Republican primary election March 19, has been endorsed for the office by the senior U. S. senator from Illinois, Charles H. Percy.

Commenting on Mrs. Mullen's ability to perform the duties of state treasurer, Sen. Percy said, "I have known Jeannette Mullen for many years. She is a superior person. She possesses the qualifications, experience and capacity for the office she seeks, and is superbly well-prepared to be the treasurer of our state."

Mrs. Mullen previously received the endorsement of another top Republican, former Governor Richard B. Ogilvie. A certified public accountant, she was the assistant to the director of the Illinois Department of Revenue during the Ogilvie administration. During that period she served as the administrator of Illinois' new bingo license and tax program as well as other new programs, including aid to senior citizens and the handicapped. In 1973, she was a member of the Speaker of the House staff and an aide to the House Revenue Committee.

Mrs. Mullen, a Barrington resident, was a delegate to the 1970 Illinois Constitutional Convention. She is also active in Republican women's politics. Mrs. Mullen's long list of public service activities include memberships on the Joint Committee on the Revenue Article, 1968-69; Advisory Committee to the Illinois Department of Revenue, 1962-64; Illinois Commission on the Status of Women; Lake County Board of Health; and Lake County Welfare Services Committee.

Others backing her include State Comptroller George Lindberg, Senate President William Harris, House Speaker Robert Blair and Congressmen Edward Derwinski and Robert McCarty.

Mrs. Mullen has business experience in the fields of taxation and accounting. Through many years of study of Illinois' complex revenue problems, she has become recognized as an expert in state financing and has worked successfully for revenue reform.

State legislative chairman of the Illinois League of Women Voters from 1961 to 1969, she is married to John B. Mullen, an engineer. Their son, Jack, 22, is a college student.

"I don't know if it's the year of the woman, but a few years ago a woman wouldn't have gotten the same support. Like a lot of things, there is a propitious time, and maybe this is it," she comments.

Acknowledging that she is from Northern Illinois, she says, "The fact that I have some Downstate support may indicate that for some people geography is a secondary consideration."

She attributes her strong backing to her ability to serve in the treasurer office. Although she cites her qualifications, her campaign literature also stresses, "Balance the ticket—with a woman."

If nominated, she will appoint an advisory committee to study the investment and internal security measures utilized by the past two Democratic state treasurers.

HARRY PAGE

Harry Page, Springfield, one of two candidates for the Republican nomination to the office of state treasurer, is the only Downstate Republican candidate for state office.

He feels that his candidacy presents the possibility of a strong and well balanced ticket in the Republican party's effort to unseat the Cook County-Downstate ticket of the Democrats. Page, born and raised in Sangamon County, says that "with the superintendent of public instruction and the clerk of the Illinois Supreme Court soon to become appointed offices, Alan Dixon remains the only Downstate state official living south of the Cook County line."

"Should my primary opponent be nominated, I can't believe that the crossover Democratic and independent voter will support her candidacy and remove the only Downstate official in Illinois, Mr. Dixon."

Page continues, "As I traveled the state this past year, I heard it expressed over and over again that the Chicago area and Downstate should both be represented in formulating a 'ticket for statewide appeal.' The brother of former State Instruction Supt. Ray Page, he emphasizes that his "background in administration and formal education eminently qualifies me for this position of public trust."

Harry Page, 44, a Springfield high school administrator, has held posts at local and state levels in education since 1957. Formerly assistant state superintendent in charge of school-community relations, he currently is on leave as vice-principal of Southeast High School.

He comments, "I'm not a fiscal expert, but I'm an administrator and I think the office of state treasurer is an administrative office."

He reports receiving support from some women's groups despite the fact that his primary opponent is a woman.

Conceding that the major party leaders are opposing him, Page says, "I'd rather have all the John Smiths for me than one Dick Ogilvie (1968-72 Illinois governor)."

Page believes he has the principal support in "almost every Downstate county."

STEAL EQUIPMENT

A box of medical equipment being moved from the Tri-Cor Medical Building, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, to the offices of Dr. Hector Zevallos, M.D., 2650 Iowa St., was stolen, it was reported last week. The box contained only equipment and no drugs, it was noted.

Meeting on sewer bills reset today

A meeting with officials of the Finis P. Ernest Co. of East St. Louis to review claims filed with Granite City for some of the work involved in repairing sewer lines in Granite City District 9, area was rescheduled for today afternoon. The Street and Alley Committee of the Granite City Council scheduled the meeting last week to study differences between company billings for dewatering and bypass pumping at several sewer break sites. Emerald Daves said the meeting first was set for Thursday afternoon, but was delayed until today. Daves said the Street and Alley Committee, of which he is chairman, planned to check the record against log entries made by Casmer Skubish, the city's sewer inspector. Other members of the committee are Aldermen Clyde Boyd and Claude Green. City officials were informed last week that it has fared better under the present unit-price contract with the Ernest company than it did under a cost-plus contract for repair of sewer breaks in 1969 and 1970. A report on sewer break repair costs was given during last week's council meeting in which an effort was made to hold up approval of a $196,015 bill for the Ernest firm for February work.

The report was given by Boyd who said that the repair of 20 sewer breaks during 1973 and 1974 has cost the city an average of $56,800 per break, compared to an average of $36,000 per break for repairs at 17 sites in 1969 and 1970. "This is a difference of $20,800 in the repair of each break in comparing the two types of contracts," Boyd said, noting that current repairs have been cheaper in spite of increases in labor, material and equipment costs during the past several years. From the time the sewer break repair work was done in 1969 and 1970 until activation of the present contract last July, labor cost increased 12 per cent per year, material costs rose 25 per cent per year and construction equipment cost went up 30 per cent per year, he said. He said the street and alley committee attended 27 meetings involving from two to five hours each in handling sewer break problems. During the council session, Alderman Sam Whitmer said the city should hold up payment of the $196,015 bill submitted for February work until the study of bills was completed. He obtained separation of the claims from the regular bill list. Such action requires only a motion and a second, with no vote taken. In subsequent action, the council approved payment of the claims on a motion by Gerald Farmliey, chairman of the Finance Committee, after several aldermen said Ernest would "close down" the job if the bills were not paid. Records in the office of City Treasurer Paul Rutledge show that from 70 to 75 per cent of the total cost of sewer breaks in the current period has been for dewatering and bypass pumping although a considerable amount of such work has been done by city street department workers.

Rotary In Action

By Bill Terrell

Our Community Service Division Committee composed of Dr. Stan Maer, Tom Thebeau, Dr. Jack Miller, Ed Edwards, George Wilkins, Larry Dew, Rev. Roy Baugh, Carl Mathias, Steve Bristol and chairman Bill Terrell is attempting to involve our community in problem solving action. We are trying to accomplish this through leading and planning a monthly meeting of community leaders called the Granite City Rotary Community Action Prayer Breakfast. We meet the first Wednesday of each month from 7:30 to 9:00 A.M. at Charlie's Restaurant with 35 to 45 of our community leaders in attendance.

The idea for such community meetings came about through a presentation made by Carl Mathias and Roy Baugh at one of our regular weekly Rotary meetings in the early part of 1973. Their presentation was a take off from Charles Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities". In their presentation they pointed out the choice is ours, we may have a community that is in decay or we may have a community that is thriving, healthy and strong to meet the daily challenges. I think it is that simple. This applies to any area of life. To stand still is to die. To face the future with a positive expectancy and be willing to take action will always bring positive results. Through this very fine presentation our membership became concerned into taking positive action. One of our three Rotary organizational divisions, Community Service, was asked to lead out with some kind of community action.

Our Community Service Committee then set out to lead in this task. Our first Prayer Breakfast was held May 2, 1973. We invited for this meeting our various Quad Cities Area Community Leaders; our Mayors, industry, management, labor, banks, news media, service clubs, hospital, doctors, lawyers, business, school systems, clergy and our 56th district legislators. This meeting was very gratifying. The attendance and response at the meeting was terrific.

At this first meeting we used the buzz group technique in trying to determine what we felt our greatest community problems or challenges were. Out of these discussions we came up with problems related to labor and management, sewers, land drainage, health entrance services, the difficulty in finding a doctor, the lack of community pride, the junior college issue and transportation to name but a few. But from all of these we all decided the number one need was "the rebirth of community pride".

Our breakfast meetings are planned around a definite plan. The name itself as named by our committee, Granite City Rotary Community Action Prayer Breakfast, attempts to communicate certain things. Granite City Rotary explains what organization is responsible for it's leadership. Community action represents our intention for its existence. In other words, it is "action" in scope. Our basic purpose is to act as a way in bringing community leaders together that can and should cause things to happen. It is further intended to be a communication group, a catalytic group, a group that promotes other groups to better serve our community. The word Prayer is not intended just to impress someone that we are a bunch of do gooders. We plan in advance for one person to open our meetings promptly at 7:30 A.M. with Prayer and for another person to close our meetings at 9:00 with Prayer. We seriously want to seek God's Divine Guidance in leadership of our group. I feel that our community and national problems will never be solved until we as leaders return to the basic principles for which our great nation was founded and that is exercising a firm and positive faith in God. I feel there is no legislation, training, education or government funding that will ever over come our social ills without being directed by God.

With an atmosphere seeking God's help we urge each other to shed our prejudices and strive to use our differences for community betterment. We expect our opinions to be different with a group of this size. We also expect disagreement in views but we encourage everyone to express disagreement in an agreeable manner.

Our 7:30 to 9:00 A.M. hour seems to be an efficient time for our group as at least 90 per cent of our expected members are able to make it each month. Representatives Robert Walters from Alton and Horace Calvo of Granite City along with Senator Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville attend every breakfast that they can which is most of them. A full course breakfast is served each meeting which was originally intended to be dutch treat after the first breakfast. Our Rotary hosted the first breakfast and each month thereafter various industrial and business groups have volunteered to host the monthly costs.

We are very pleased with the progress made thus far through these series of meetings. We have worked with several of the original problems as defined in our initial meeting. We feel our group was instrumental in helping our Chamber of Commerce successfully get our area assigned to the Belleville Area College District rather than the Lewis and Clark

Community College District as originally planned. Stride has been made and is continuing to be made in health entrance services. We are now involved in discussing and recognizing the problems Labor and Management encounter in their relationships. This is an area that affects our economic being more than anything else. We are attempting to learn from Management, Labor, general contractors and citizens in general what they see as problems facing labor-management relations. We are trusting we will then be able to solve most of these problems.

World of Rotary Links Men in Common Cause

In Vijayawada, India, a children's park, with library and theater, replaces a garbage dump.

Homeless victims of savage fires in the Blue Mountain region of Australia receive cash and other necessities of life.

A 60-year-old hospital in Kampala, Uganda, East Africa, adds a modern clinic for spastic children.

Displaced civilians in Vietnam receive more than a ton of serviceable clothing and shoes.

The rich heritage of a stretch of the Ohio-Erie Canal is reclaimed and restored.

The connecting link between these "good news" headlines is Rotary International, the worldwide service association of some 14,000 Rotary clubs for business and professional men. More than 701,000 Rotarians in 149 countries wear the distinctive Rotary cogwheel emblem, and it has been through their endeavors that such projects have been accomplished.

Whether rotarians meet in the Town House Cafe as they do in Athens, Tex., or in the King's Palace Hotel, gathering place of the Rotary Club of Athens, Greece, the atmosphere has several similarities.

A Rotarian going from one to the other might find the food and language unfamiliar, but he would instantly recognize the basic ingredients of most Rotary meetings — a meal, fellowship, a program and emphasis upon service projects to benefit the community.

He would know that those in attendance represent many professions and businesses because a Rotary club's membership consists of but one man in the community from each field of business interest. The classification principle was devised so that fellowship might develop because of diversity, rather than similarity, of interest. Through the establishment of a cross-section of the community's commercial and professional life, the Rotary club avoids domination by any single occupational group.

Presidents of Rotary International have been drawn from many lands, and the global thread also is evident in the cities Rotary has chosen for annual conventions. In the past four years, Rotarians have gathered in Mexico City, Mexico; Honolulu, Hawaii; Atlanta, Ga., and Sydney, Australia. In the next four years, they will meet in Houston, Tex.; Lausanne, Switzerland; Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.; and Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

Paul Harris died in 1947. In his last anniversary message, he wrote:

"I would like to think that the pioneering days of Rotary have only just begun. There are just as many new things to be done as ever there were. Rotary must certainly continue to pioneer or be left in the rear of progress."

Rotarians in Sterling Heights, Mich., attacked the pollution of the Clinton River, running through their town, setting an example of what can be done at the grass roots level and earning recognition in the U.S. Congressional Record and the national press. To help local businessmen acquire business-management skills, the Rotary Club of Davao in the Philippines established a small-business clinic in cooperation with the University of Mindanao. Rotarians from Greymouth, New Zealand, provided a portable gasoline irrigation pump for rice farmers around Dong Che in Vietnam and replaced it when it was stolen by the Viet Cong.

Involvement with youth and in the world community also are important facets of the Rotary program that continue to draw qualified members into the organization at the rate of hundreds per day.

Service to youth programs include the impressive scholarship program of The Rotary Foundation.

Founder Sought Constructive Friendships

Paul P. Harris was the founder of Rotary. He was born in Racine, Wis., on April 19, 1868, and spent his early years in Wallingford, Vt., prior to attending the University of Vermont, Princeton University of Iowa. Following his graduation from the law school of the University of Iowa in 1891, he spent the next five years in seeing the world and in coming to know his fellow men before settling down to practice law.

He worked as a newspaper reporter, a business college teacher, a stock company actor and as a cowboy. He traveled extensively as a salesman for a marble and granite concern in America and Europe. These varied experiences broadened his vision and were of material assistance in the early extension of Rotary.

In 1896, Harris went to Chicago to practice law. One day in 1900 he dined with a lawyer friend in Rogers Park, a residential section of Chicago. After dinner they took a walk and he was impressed by the fact that his friend stopped at several stores and shops in the neighborhood and introduced him to the proprietors, who were his friends. Paul Harris' law clients were business friends, not social friends, but this experience caused him to wonder why he couldn't make social friends out of at least some of his business friends — and he resolved to organize a club which would band together a group of representative business and professional men in friendship and fellowship.

For the next several years he devoted a great deal of time to reflection on conditions of life and business and, by 1905, he had formulated a definite philosophy of business relations. Talking it over with three of his law clients — Silvester Schiele, a coal merchant, Gustavus Loehr, a mining engineer, and Hiram Shorey, a merchant tailor — he decided, with them, to organize the club which he had been planning since 1900. On Feb. 23, 1905, the club's first meeting took place and the nucleus was formed for the thousands of Rotary clubs which were later organized throughout the world. The new club, which Harris named "Rotary" because the members met, in rotation, in their various places of business, met with general approval and club membership grew rapidly. Almost every member had come to Chicago from a small town and in the Rotary club they found an opportunity for the intimate acquaintanceship of their boyhood days. When Harris became president of the club in its third year he was ambitious to extend Rotary to other cities because he was convinced that the Rotary club could be developed into an important service movement.

The second Rotary club was founded in San Francisco in 1908 and then other clubs were organized until in 1910, when there were 16 clubs, it was decided that they should be united into an organization which would extend the movement to other cities and serve as a clearing house for the exchange of ideas among the clubs. Representatives from the clubs met in Chicago in August, 1910, and organized the National Association of Rotary Clubs. When clubs were formed in Canada and Great Britain, making the movement world wide in scope, the name was changed, in 1912, to the International Association of Rotary Clubs, and in 1922 the name was shortened to Rotary International. Harris was the first president of the National Association and the first president of the International Association.

When he passed away in January, 1947, he was president emeritus of Rotary International.

While Harris devoted much of his time to Rotary, he was also prominent in civic and professional work. He was the first chairman of the board of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults in the America and of the International Society for Crippled Children.

Harris received the Ph. B. and LL. D. degrees from the University of Vermont.

Chicago Was Scene for Beginning of Rotary

It was Feb. 23, 1905.

The automobile was still evoking cries of "Get a horse!" The airplane had yet to stay aloft for more than a few minutes, though the Wright brothers had shown a little more than a year earlier that heavier-than-air flight was possible.

The first motion picture theater was soon to open in Pittsburgh, with a film entitled "The Great Train Robbery." The ice cream cone had just appeared on the American scene, and the first concrete cantilever bridge was being built in Marion, Iowa. It was the year Einstein introduced his theory of relativity and James J. Jeffries retired as the world's heavyweight boxing champion.

In Chicago, on this particular February day, four men met in room 711 of the Unity Building on Dearborn Street. They were Paul P. Harris, a lawyer; Silvester Schiele, a coal dealer; Gustavus E. Loehr, a mining engineer, and Hiram E. Shorey, a merchant tailor. The office of "Gus" Loehr was typical of its time — a small room, not too well-lighted, with a desk and four uncomfortable chairs, a coat rack in the corner, one or two pictures and an engineering chart on the wall. They talked about an idea that Paul Harris had been pondering for five years. It was simply this: That business relations could — and should — foster friendly relations. They need not, thought Paul Harris, be a barrier to friendship.

What kind of men were these that Paul Harris had brought together? The founder of Rotary answered these questions in his book, "This Rotarian's Age," saying:

"In the city by the lake, a drama was to be enacted, the importance of which could not be foreseen. The dramatic personae were men of the ordinary walks of life; business and professional men.

"While lacking qualities which would have distinguished them from others of their kind, it may nevertheless be said that they were fairly representative of what in common parlance would have been termed 'the better element.' They were all natural products of the times and subject to its usual frailties.

All were friendly and congenial, and each represented a recognized and honorable vocation different from that of the others. They had been selected without regard to religious, racial, or political differences."

As these men talked that night in room 711, they saw even more clearly that men in business could be personal friends — and should be. In their discussions of ways to foster such business-social relations, they decided, in agreement with Paul Harris, that the formation of a club might best serve their aims.

Though they didn't decide there and then to call it a Rotary club, that meeting on the night of Feb. 23, 1905, was the first meeting of the world's first Rotary club.

The next day, a fifth member joined the group having been invited to do so by Paul Harris. He was Harry Ruggles, a printer. He, in turn, interested a real estate dealer named Will Jensen.

It was Ruggles who, at an early meeting one evening, jumped on a chair and shouted, "Let's sing!" He liked to sing and it was his infectious enthusiasm for it that started the Rotary Club of Chicago on its way as the forerunner of the many Rotary clubs which today make singing a part of their weekly program.

Soon after Ruggles and Jensen came in, the organization of the new club was completed at a meeting in Schiele's office. The first president was Schiele, with Jensen as corresponding secretary, Shorey as recording secretary and Ruggles as treasurer.

Paul Harris modestly declined to accept any office in the new club at that time. In fact it was not until 1907 that Harris was elected president of the Rotary Club of Chicago.

The name "Rotary" was chosen at one of the early meetings, its proposer being Paul Harris, who pointed out that the word aptly conveyed the original plan of the members to meet "in rotation" at their various places of business.

With the name decided upon, Montague M. Bear, an engraver who had joined the club, thought it was time to have an emblem. He came up with a sketch of a plain wagon wheel, a rotating symbol that won full approval. Today, Bear's wheel, though much changed in design, has hundreds of thousands of descendants in the form of the familiar cog-wheel emblem on the lapels of Rotarians across the world.

The first printed roster of the Rotary Club of Chicago had 19 members, but at the end of 1905 there were 30 members. Paul Harris later wrote of these first members:

So began Rotary in the early 1900's in the pioneer town of Chicago.

Certainly, no Rotarian of 1905 ever dreamed that the idea set in motion in that Chicago office would some day be accepted by men around the world.

A LITTLE ANCIENT HISTORY
The Granite City Rotary Club was organized Wednesday evening, February 6th, 1924, at a meeting held at the White Star Restaurant on 19th street. The organization was effected after the holding of several preliminary meetings, during which Rotarian Hy Martin of St. Louis came over and helped put the organization across. Ray Wilber, the efficient secretary of the Granite City Club was the appointee of Governor Jim White for organizer, and the credit for the organization of the Granite City Rotary Club is due to the good work of these two Rotarians.

A list of the officers elected, together with the charter members of the Club appears on this page. The full limit of membership under a charter came into the new organization, with a number on the waiting list denoting a healthy condition for the Rotary Club here.

Four-Way Test Saved Business

"Is it the TRUTH?" "Is it FAIR to all concerned?" "Will it build Goodwill and better friendships?" "Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?"

These twenty-five words were written in 1932 during the depths of the depression by a Chicagoan named Herbert J. Taylor. They comprise today what Rotarians regard as a "Four-Way Test" of business relationships.

The author, Herbert J. Taylor, a Chicago businessman, was president of Rotary International during Rotary's 1955 Golden Anniversary year. In reply to a query Taylor explains how he came to write "The Four-Way Test."

During the depression-gripped 1932, he was assigned by creditors to save a Chicago company from bankruptcy and he found the company's debts were $400,000 more than its assets. The company made a good product. But so did its competitors — and they were stronger financially. What to do?

To Herbert J. Taylor, the answer was simple: The company must develop something within its organization that its competitors might not have in like amount — namely, character, dependability, service-mindedness. So his personnel might gauge themselves in their relationships with others, he wrote out the four questions listed above, known today as the "Four-way Test."

The test proved its success. Applying the four questions to all its plans, policies and advertising, the company gradually moved out of the red. Today it is worth more than two million dollars and along with its growth has come happier relationships between company, customers, suppliers, competitors and employees, based on mutual trust and confidence.

Since its adoption as an official "Four-way Test," of Rotary Clubs, it has been translated in a dozen different languages the world over and is used, not only in offices and factories but in schools and legislatures as an effective measuring device for business and personal conduct. Few yardsticks are as widely used.

"Is it the TRUTH?" "Is it FAIR to all concerned?"

"Will it build Goodwill and better friendships?" "Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?"

Foreign Scholarships A Rotarian Success

Since 1947, nearly 5,000 young persons have received awards to study in countries other than their own at a cost of more than $10 million. These awards were for undergraduate study, technical training, and for group study exchange of young business and professional men. The foundation is supported by contributions.

Granite City Rotary Club Founded 50 Years Ago Has Membership Of 70 Businessmen and Leaders

Granite City Rotary Club which is celebrating its 50th anniversary on March 12, was organized Feb. 6, 1924 during a meeting held at the old White Star Restaurant on 19th Street and was accepted into Rotary International on March 12, 1924. The charter was officially presented on April 15, 1924.

The club with a present membership of 70, started out with 25 members and the first officers were Lewis L. Lindley, newspaper editor, president;

Rev. D. J. Bryan, Catholic priest, vice president; Ray Wibur, plant manager, secretary; and Louis Buenger, coal dealer, treasurer.

The club was founded on the codes "Service above Self" and "He profits most who serves the best." The Rotary code of ethics states: My business standards shall have in them a note of sympathy for our common humanity. My business dealings, ambitions, and relations shall always cause me to take into consideration my highest duties as a member of society. In every position in business life, in every responsibility that comes before me, my chief thought shall be to fill that responsibility and discharge that duty so that when I have ended each of them, I shall have lifted the level of human ideals and achievements a little higher shall have lifted the level of human ideals and achievements than I found it.

Outstanding Services

Since its founding the Granite City Rotary Club has provided outstanding services to the community and especially in the form of youth guidance. The club members take an active part in the guidance program at the high schools and discuss the various phases of business life with groups of students.

Through the many fund raising projects through the years, including home shows, horse shows, chili dinners and recently a Camelot auction, the club has been able to pour thousands upon thousands of dollars into projects for the benefit of the community. Some of the earlier projects were recognition of high school athletes, construction of facilities at old Camp Rankin, which only old timers will remember, construction of facilities at Camp Sunnen. Donations to the Girl Scouts for improvements of their facilities, renovations to the YMCA kitchen and later complete renovation of the meeting hall, purchase of a station wagon for use by the Fire Dept. as an emergency inhalator vehicle, purchase of equipment for St. Elizabeth Hospital and numerous scholarships and student loan funds. A committee of the club is now working on establishing a project to expend receipts from the Camelot auction and any suggestions from any source will be considered.

Two of the members of the club were responsible, through their generosity, for establishing overnight camping facilities for the Boy Scouts. George Coudy provided the facilities for old Camp Coudy which were used by thousands of boys. It was located near the site of present SIUE. Carl Graham, a charter member, made possible the camp site which was known as Camp Graham which will be remembered by many men in the community.

Rotary Branches Out

After its first year of existence, the Granite City Rotary Club was instrumental in promoting the theme and spirit of Rotary. The Granite City Club sponsored and organized the Madison Rotary Club which was chartered in 1925; and also the Edwardsville Club chartered about the same time. Both of these clubs will be celebrating their GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY in 1975.

The club has a golf team which has been competing with other Rotary Clubs in the area. Among other annual events are the Christmas luncheon and the annual installation to which the Rotary Anns are invited. The club meets at the YMCA on Tuesdays at 12:15 p.m.

GRANTMASTER TIRE GUARANTEE

1. Tread Life Guarantee Against Road Hazards: The guarantee all Grantmaster tires, against hazardous road conditions, is based on the life of the tread with the exception of ordinary road potholes, pits, ruts, and other irregularities, under normal use, wear, and tear.
2. Tread Life Guarantee Against Defects: The guarantee all Grantmaster tires, against all defects of material and workmanship, for the life of the tread.
3. Grantmaster Against Tread Wear: The tread life is guaranteed for the life of the tire and for the number of months designated on the tire. The tire should be returned to Grants and we will replace it, charge the correct repair price, plus the Federal Excise Tax into the tire's replacement allowance toward the purchase of a new tire.

The guarantee covers loss in replacement cost only. It does not cover loss in resale value. The guarantee is void if the tire is used for commercial purposes, is damaged, or is altered in any way.
